

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 02:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Patrick Craig

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 02:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Mullins

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 02:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

And I highly recommend a Thoroughly BIPARTISAN COMMISSION to do this job! Respectfully, Nancy F. Neighbors

Sincerely,

Nancy F. Neighbors

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 02:19 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

leslie Flohr

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Steven Goebel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

The Pence-Kobach "commission" is NOTHING BUT A BLATANT ATTEMPT AT VOTER SUPPRESSION!!

Sincerely,

Jacque Kubley

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Janelle Fassi

Date: 09-08-2017 01:45 PM

Subject: Voter integrity

mail1

Hi, my name is Janelle Fassi and I am going to the event at NHIOP for voter integrity on Tuesday. Here is my comment: "The fact that Trump presses on voter integrity while those in his inner circle are registered to vote in more than one state is absolutely demoralizing to our democracy. We should instead focus on voter integrity in Trump's corrupt administration rather than innocent people actively engaging in citizen affairs."

Sent from my iPhone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:19 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lynne Forest

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:19 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joan Hausladen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Victoria Wobermin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Judith Meives

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Shirley Obeya

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ray West

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:49 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Eric Steele

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:19 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tom Hougham

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:19 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Allen Dollberg

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 11:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Pat Trich

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 11:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

This commission is a thinly veiled attempt to intimidate voters, to eliminate young people, minorities and the elderly. We need a commission that makes it easier to vote, not one like this that tries to obstruct voting.

Sincerely,

Gloria Merlino

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 11:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. I also believe the Dreamers should be allowed to vote.

Sincerely,

Gloria Pilkington

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 11:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

My entire family is concerned that the Pence/Kobach commission's request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

We're glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters; and we know that the American people will not be intimidated from voting..

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and having their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. (Such things as modernizing our elections with automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans!)

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that "We The People" will do whatever it takes to protect it. We will not allow this Commission to intimidate us; or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Shirle & Art Gottlieb

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: wlaechelt
Date: 09-08-2017 11:49 AM
Subject: Election
mail1

My name is Wayne laechelt and I've been through 3 elections in Sugar Grove, il. AND NO ONE HAS EVERY ASKED FOR ANY TYPE OF ID !!!! ????? Any body can walk in and vote!

Sent from my Verizon Wireless 4G LTE smartphone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 11:19 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions, not to mention peeping-Tomlike tactics practiced by subversive rule in backwards cultures.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this inane and palpably partisan attack on voters and citizens, and I'm telling you that the American people will not be intimidated or bribed out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow functions such as automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans. (As well, moving "traditional" Election Day from Tuesday to a weekend would also greatly facilitate the general process, as would easing polling-place access for elderly or disabled citizens, rather than the gerrymandering practice of doing the opposite.

The freedom to vote is a cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote, and I fight fire with water.

Sincerely,

Ramsay MacInnes

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 11:19 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Keith Main

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 11:19 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Maggie Maxwell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 10:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail1

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joshua Longanecker

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Jeannine Levesque
Date: 09-08-2017 10:26 AM
Subject: Change in my registration
mail1

The last time I checked my status at the voting website, I noticed that my status had been changed to permanent mail-in vote. This is something that I would never do because of the possibility of someone using my ballot fraudulently. I would never know. Someone may have used it to vote so what happens to my walk in vote? Is it canceled? I changed it back but I can't imagine how it would have been changed to begin with. I will also periodically recheck to see that nothing has changed.

Jeannine Levesque

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 09:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joe Chavez

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Elizabeth Lewis
Date: 09-08-2017 09:19 AM
Subject: Your Focus
mail2

Your Commission is funded by taxpayer dollars, and should be focused on protecting our election system from attack by hackers, possibly connected with foreign governments, including Russia. There is little to no ACTUAL evidence of voter fraud documented in this country. You appear to be focused on a problem that does not exist, and totally overlooking a serious threat to election integrity.

Your work should focus on protecting our democracy from attack, not attacking our right to vote. Our system is strengthened when we increase voter registration and voter participation, not limit and restrict it.

Look to the recent actions and statement by the Illinois governor, a fellow Republican.

As a New Hampshire resident, proud of our state, I resent the President's assertion that "many, many" illegal votes were cast in NH. That did not happen: just ask your colleague Bill Gardner.

Elizabeth Lewis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 09:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Pamela Martin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 09:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

This is a shameless, factually-unsupported attempt at voter suppression.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Maybe Kobach can cough up the extensive list of "illegal" voters he's prosecuted after devoting years to promulgating this MYTH!

.. crickets ..

Sincerely,

Paul Petruccelli

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 09:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Nicole Eveland

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 09:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ginger Ketelsen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 08:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I oppose this commission because it was established based on Mr. Trump's lie that millions voted illegally in 2016. It is clear to me that Trump is simply using his power to attempt to suppress his opponents in 2020. Republicans have refused to adequately fund the legal apparatus set up to investigate voting practices across the nation

Sincerely,

Barbara Thiele

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Alyssa Weber
Date: 09-08-2017 08:27 AM
Subject: Granite Stater Comments on Voter Fraud
mail2

Dear Commission on Voter Fraud,

The election process is a sacred rite in this country, and needs to be protected no matter what.

And I don't mean protected from voters being "Bussed in form MA" - which, by the way, there is no evidence of (1). In fact, there is no real evidence or proof for many of the accusations you are investigating. (2)

I strongly urge you to consider the facts when investigating so-called "voter fraud." Those facts are that, frankly, widespread voter fraud is not occurring. This witch hunt can only lead to more ridiculous voter registration legislation - which discourages young people, minorities, and those living in poverty from participating in our government.

Please use your power and influence to work towards issues that the citizens of this country care about - not the shadows of baseless accusations. Stop wasting time and work to fix real issues.

--

Alyssa Lynough

REDACTED, Ward 9

Sources:

- 1.) >REDACTED<
- 2.) >REDACTED<

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 08:20 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

J W

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 07:48 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Angela Esslinger

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 07:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Allen Gillin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 06:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bernadette Colquhoun

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 05:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sue Spellman

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 04:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dawn Rawson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 03:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert Lyons

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 02:49 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Carol Lapetino

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 02:48 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

betty winholtz

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 02:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

David Sherman

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:48 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Keeping in mind that your legitimacy will never be accepted as long as you practice voter suppression, including such dirty tricks as fake phone calls, sending misleading information and misdirecting voters as to proper polling places, gerrymandering, etc., which tricks are what this commission should actually be investigating...

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

David Bryan

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jean Beaudoin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Laura Probst

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sue Whitlock

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Go ahead, investigate me!

I am one of an estimated 9 million Americans Abroad, have been living in Canada and voting in Vermont since 1972, and stay on good terms with my town clerk who sends me the ballots every time I call. Still, I'm sure you are going to try to validate all 9 million of us because we have funny suffixes on our email addresses or zip codes that don't correspond with our home addresses. And yes, I have become a Canadian (dual) citizen but as a good American I still file my 1040 every year.

I cannot imagine what a waste of time the whole process is. There are probably 9 million different circumstances just among the Americans Abroad and 20 times that number among Americans within the country. You have to rely on the good judgement of thousands upon thousands of election officials and the basic honesty of American citizens. Instead, you should be encouraging more voters and educating citizens about the importance of exercising their democratic responsibilities -- not rights, responsibilities.

This is what democracy is all about.

But if you want to call me to investigate further, contact my town clerk and she'll give you my phone number.

Sincerely,

Cleveland (Andy) Dodge

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 01:18 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 8, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Having just moved to Washington state and had the opportunity to vote by mail, I can't understand why it isn't the way it's done everywhere. Cheaper, easier, better, faster, traceable, how can you not support it. The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow other things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy. To think you would so deceptively take that away is appalling.

Sincerely,

Karen Dahmer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:48 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Milo Matthews

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:28 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Renate Knudsen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:28 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tom Fonda

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:28 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

gale strong

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-08-2017 12:19 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Niki Learn

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be, besides illegal, the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have upheld their duty to protect voters from such a partisan attack. I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote and encouraging others to do the same.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast. No false claims about massive illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like Election Day voter registration, vote by mail and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the right to vote.

Sincerely,

Holly Buchwald

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Allison Brundy

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

My family has served in the military, post office, state department, state and local governments, has opened businesses and some portions have lived here for 350 years. Others died getting some members to the country which once best demonstration the ideal of democracy - "one person, one vote."

Anything other than this is a travesty to our constitution.

Sincerely, Sylvia Boris

Sincerely,

Sylvia Boris

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Edie Emery

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:18 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Fran Ransom

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:18 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

roger schmidt

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jerry Weinberger

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Vicki Halbakken

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The so-called Election Integrity Commission has been flawed from the very beginning. Speaking strictly from a common sense basis, it would be incredibly hard to sway elections, one voter at a time.

Furthermore, any massive voter fraud would certainly have been discovered by the many attempts to find examples!

As a retired information professional, who knows how little privacy there is, I'm deeply concerned about the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country. I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this attack on the privacy of US voters.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy! The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast. It is criminal to manufacture false claims about illegal voting in order to suppress votes.

I refuse to let this very flawed Commission intimidate me -- or any other eligible American -- from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Amrita Burdick

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marcie Klevens

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Amy Laden

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Alison Roose

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ray Matteau

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 10:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Kennedy

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Karl Harris

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Donald Erway

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Danny Brasso

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Josh Heffron

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote. Statistics and studies prove time and time again that voter fraud is not a valid issue to be dedicating time and resources towards. Here in Sarasota County for example, our current Supervisor of Elections is dealing with one active case of possible fraud, and his 16 year predecessor likewise only ever dealt with one case that ever lead to a prosecution. (Source: Sarasota Magazine article, dated 8/25/17 - >REDACTED)<

I do remember reading that recently ousted White House Advisor Steve

Bannon was illegally registered to vote both here in Florida and in New York during the last election cycle, perhaps you should focus some investigative effort to ensuring that he has since rectified his fraudulent voting activity?

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lisa Sobota

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Michele Wojnar

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

GLEND A BENNETT

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Your commission is a fraud on the American people. It is obvious your intention is to limit American's ability to exercise their right to vote because you want to keep some of us in our lowly place. I reject your legitimacy and will fight to stop your assault and reject your findings and recommendations. You should be ashamed of yourselves. I can't believe my tax dollars are going to support your efforts. God will punish you in the end.

Sincerely,

Alan Duran

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 09:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Durk Barton

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

One person, one vote is essential for a democracy. Do you pledge allegiance to our flag and republic? Where we talk about "liberty and justice for all"

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Wendy Fast

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jill Adler

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I am deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bert Goff

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm VERY CONCERNED and ANGRY about the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for "PRIVATE INFORMATION" about every voter in the country, which COULD BE THE FIRST of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions!! REPUBLICANS are presently carrying out GERRYMANDERING wherever they can get away it, all over the country!! This sounds like more of the SAME!!

I'm VERY THANKFUL that state election officials have put their DUTY TO VOTERS "ABOVE" THIS PARTISAN 'ATTACK' on voters, and I want you to know that the American people WILL "NOT" BE INTIMIDATED out of exercising our freedom to vote!!

The BEST WAY to UPHOLD the integrity of our elections is by MAKING SURE every eligible voter "CAN" vote and have their VOTE COUNTED "AS CAST" -- and NOT using "false claims" about illegal voting to suppress votes!! Modernizing our elections to ALLOW things like AUTOMATIC VOTER REGISTRATION... Election Day voter REDACTED EARLY VOTING are "IMPORTANT STEPS" to lowering the barriers to participation for ALL Americans!!

The FREEDOM TO VOTE is the "CORNERSTONE" of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do WHATEVER IT TAKES, together, to PROTECT IT!! I will "NOT LET" this REDACTED TIMIDATE ME or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote!!

Sincerely,

David Scheer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lucinda Windsor

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned about the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country. This is illegal and undemocratic. The nation should be encouraging voters, not restricting them. This is below us.

State election officials know their duty to voters and will not stand for this partisan attack. Nor will the American people. We will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by ensuring that every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast, not by suppressing votes using false claims about illegal voting. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tina Rubin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jen Housel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

REDACTED, we have "motor voter". If you have a driver's license, you are registered. We also have a very viable way to register online. We're not perfect. We don't have open primaries yet, but we're working on that. The point is simple. If you're old enough, you can and should vote. Any attempt to compromise that right could and should be illegal. We don't have cause or complaint about it. "Crosscheck" would be illegal, here. It should be across the U.S. But it proves once again, that Republicans can only win if they cheat. Assist by media giveaways helps too, but that's a different problem.

Sincerely,

William Blair Jr

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Pam Mueller
Date: 09-07-2017 08:35 PM
Subject: Your visit to NH
mail2

Dear friends,

Can you explain to me why you are spending time and tax payer money looking for voter fraud when there is absolutely no proof that there has been any kind of illegal voting in either NH or the entire USA? Instead there is much that points to the fact that voter suppression is the problem you should be tackling. Rather than making it more difficult for groups of citizens to vote, please find ways to improve voter turnout. As a concerned NH voter I am asking you to stop playing politics with our right to vote - in my mind it is clear that you are doing absolutely nothing to improve our democracy.

Sincerely,

Pam Mueller

proud independent voter from REDACTED

Sent from my iPhone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Gary Bridges

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lauren Flynn-Burbage

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Hannah Blakeman

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country is a despicable attempt to push nationwide voting restrictions and alienate many voters around the country. Rather than encourage more voters, this is an attempt to target groups of voters that the Republicans don't "like."

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this Republican attack on voters, and I want you to know that we, American people, will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lonnie Barish

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

ILONA VERHAGEN

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert Depew

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Cecil Inglis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Anderson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

As a resident and voter in the State of Maine, I am proud of my state's reputation for high voter turnout. What no state needs, including Maine, is to have obstacles placed in voters' way. Voter fraud has not proven to be a problem in Maine or elsewhere in the USA. This Commission needs to make voting easier for America's citizens, not harder.

Sincerely,

Jon Emerson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bradley Rikard

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Barbara Van Walsen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 08:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Vern and Jeanne Long

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: barbara sampath
Date: 09-07-2017 08:05 PM
Subject: No Voter Fraud in NH. You idiots.
mail2

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Cathy Wootan

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I am aware that the Pence-Kobach commission seeks to obtain private information about every voter in the country. Besides this being an unprecedented and obscene invasion of individual privacy it is also part of the commission's attempts to impose nationwide voting restrictions. I state this as Mr. Kobach's career has centered on the widely disproved myth of extensive voter fraud and efforts to suppress voting rights. Further, the commission has its origins in the repeated lies of Donald Trump about massive voter fraud in the 2016 election. Lies that have been repeatedly and factually disproven. This commission is a sham. Worse it is an attempt to infringe on my voting rights, as well as those of every other American.

I am pleased that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the vast majority of state election officials have denied the commission voter records and other personal information. They have placed their duty where it belongs -- to the voters. Make sure we maintain our constitutional right to vote.

If the Pence-Kobach commission wants address voting rights it can start by working vigorously to re-authorize the Voting Rights Act. Plus, seek to ensure the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast. Modernize our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. Nor will I or others succumb to the lies of the Trump administration about voter fraud.

Sincerely,

Norma Kline

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Warren Jones

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Grace Beninson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. Obviously at least one leader of this commission has a past history of doing all he can to keep people from voting.

I'm glad that state election officials, especially in my state of Pennsylvania, have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

In addition to the above the commission should be exploring ways to make our election process more secure from hacking and other computer related attacks.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Frank Evelhoch, II

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Nancy Ancharski
Date: 09-07-2017 07:35 PM
Subject: Get out the vote
mail2

In 1971 I became a young member of the NH League of Women Voters and worked on registering voters at PTA meetings and other public sites. I also registered Keene State College and Keene High School students during "Rock the Vote" voter drives. In both cases the city clerk gave very strict instructions for the registration process and the people registering took their right to vote very seriously. These are examples of true "Election Integrity". This voter fraud committees is exactly the opposite.

Nancy Ancharski

REDACTED

REDACTED REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:18 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert Sprowl

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail2

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Geoff Hamer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 07:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

IT IS CLEAR THE INTENT OF THIS COMMISSION IS TO RESTRICT VOTING BY MINORITIES AND LOWER INCOME PEOPLE. THIS UNDERMINES THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE VALUES UPON WHICH THIS NATION WAS BASED. UNLESS OF COURSE, YOU BELIEVE THAT A WHITE CHRISTIAN STATE IS WHAT THE FOREFATHERS SOUGHT TO CREATE.

SHARON TORRISI, DVM

Sincerely,

Sharon Torrisi

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Dan Vallone

Date: 09-07-2017 07:12 PM

Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail3

Members of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

My name is Dan Vallone. I am writing to express my concern that Secretary Kobach is intent on using your commission as a vehicle to deny American citizens their right to vote. It is clear from Secretary Kobach's past conduct, his statements supporting the idea that there might have been millions of votes cast illegally in 2016, and his position as a paid contributor to Breitbart, that this is an ideological campaign to impose restrictions that will prevent American citizens from voting. This commission is an insult to the millions of Americans who have given their lives in wars and in civil rights campaigns to protect and expand the right to vote. I strongly urge all members to resign from the commission and consign this initiative, which is antithetical to our American character, to the trash bin of history where it belongs.

Secretary Gardner, I am a New Hampshire resident. I was born in New Hampshire and I feel so fortunate to call it home. I must say that I am extremely disappointed in your presence on this commission. You are propping up a sham effort that has no objective outside of making it more difficult for American citizens to vote. New Hampshire is and should always be the first-in-the-nation primary because we believe that candidates for office have to meet voters, have to be responsive and accountable directly to voters, and that it is every citizen's duty to participate in the democratic process. You are right now giving legitimacy to a commission which, if allowed to continue, will lead to fewer people casting a vote in future elections. Please, for the good of our state and our country, resign from this commission. You are a leader and your repudiation will put an end to this attack on our civic institutions.

Dan Vallone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. The whole idea of a commission to investigate alleged voter fraud is ridiculous; this is a virtually non-existent problem which is merely a pretext for restricting voting. Dissolve yourself !

Sincerely,

Bruce Berwald

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bruce Wimberley

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Fred Marvin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Patrick Stroud

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Automatic voter registration is the answer--the only answer--let's do it now and move on to restore our representative democracy.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Andrew Hinz

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

The only widespread voter fraud that actually exists is partisan gerrymandering and it is a serious problem that needs to be addressed and solved forever. How about your commission focuses its efforts there instead of chasing ghosts that don't actually exist?

Sincerely,

Stuart Way

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

nancy morgan-boucher

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Nick Hood

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Donna Lucero

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

What a total waste of money funding a pseudo-commission with a purpose of proving the totally unprovable and, in fact, the totally illogical.

Disband the commission and spend the money on health care.

Sincerely,

Leslie Beall

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. Also is this where we sign up to promote FASCISM? Sounds like you guys are promoting and are FASCIST DICKS!

Sincerely,

Kevin Hardin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote .

Sincerely,

Tom Hagan

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kimberly McConkey

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 06:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm extremely concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country. I'm worried it will lead to more voting restrictions. I'm also worried about our privacy being breached.

I fully support California's refusal to comply.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. Please stop your efforts to make voting harder -- we saw what you did in Kansas!

Sincerely,

Jan Booth

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Brodie Lockard

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Christina Gillman

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions and arbitrary deletions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans. I would also like to see voter machines in every state that are not hackable. That means there should be a paper trail, an optical scanner with mandatory use on Election Day!, and arbitrary recounts of ballots.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Mullins

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Holly Dowling

Sincerely,

Holly Dowling

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned with the direction, focus and lack of transparency of the Pence-Kobach commission. The recent request for private information about every voter in the country impinges on our right to privacy and appears to be the first attempt to begin nationwide voting restrictions.

I've written to my state officials to ask them to oppose the commission's partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated by your attempts to obstruct the freedom to vote.

I deplore the lack of transparency in your hearing process so far, as well as "voter fraud" premise of the commission, which has never been substantiated by any study and is based on the deceitful assertions of President Trump.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote as easily as possible and have their vote counted as cast. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans--not demanding more identification or purging the voter rolls.

The freedom to vote is the foundation of our democracy, and I intend to continue to oppose this fraudulent and partisan commission and your unAmerican actions.

Sincerely,

Barry Spaulding

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

tim harwick

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Arlene Ruksza-Lenz

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Chimey Lee

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Chimey Lee

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

David Snope

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Kent Barnard
Date: 09-07-2017 05:41 PM
Subject: Voter Fraud concerns
mail3

To the Honorable Ladies and Gentlemen of the Commission:

Your President has sent you on a witch hunt, on a vile obsession of his own making in order to prevent disadvantaged persons from voting. This is nothing more than the Jim Crow laws reborn. It is a ridiculous waste of taxpayer's money – money that should be spent on infrastructure, schools, libraries, jobs for the poor, etc.

If you want to make America Great Again, vote with your conscience, not the way your party is telling you to vote, and disregard the things the treasonous President is ordering you to do.

This is a vile, hate-based, help the rich get richer, scheme – it is a con of the American People, and rest assured we will not stand for it.

Sincerely,

Kent

Kent A. Barnard, Director

The Patterson

Not Your Momma's Library – NEW! Now circulating Ukuleles! Remember to check out our cake pans, rubber stamps, card creator kits, early literacy kits, computer projector and screen or seeds from the seed library at The Patterson!

Always something new at The Patterson!

>REDACTED< Follow us on Facebook!

REDACTED

REDACTED REDACTED

REDACTED

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Trump's assertion that millions voted illegally for Clinton is a pitiful lie, and helps to undermine confidence in our precious democratic system. He puts ego before honesty, and before the good of our beloved nation.

Sincerely,

Tim Groeger

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

I worked to enfranchise voters before I was old enough to vote: carrying petitions door-to-door (remember those?) as a teen opposed to the war in Vietnam, to earn 18-year-olds -- who were being drafted and sent to war -- the right to vote. As an 18-year-old in 1972, I cast my first vote. I have voted in every primary and general, every year, since. I once even showed up at the polls (which are around the corner from me) when there was no race in my district. My mailbox had been empty of solicitations for my vote, which tipped me off, but I went to my polling place anyway, just to be sure.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. Voter suppression is a crime against the Constitution, and should not be tolerated, irrespective of party.

Thank you for considering my opinion, and I wish you and yours health and peace.

Sincerely,

Merideth Genin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lorri Redmon

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans. It is key to raise the sadly low election participation rates.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

William Kohler

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

I worked to enfranchise voters before I was old enough to vote: carrying petitions door-to-door (remember those?) as a teen opposed to the war in Vietnam, to earn 18-year-olds -- who were being drafted and sent to war -- the right to vote. As an 18-year-old in 1972, I cast my first vote. I have voted in every primary and general, every year, since. I once even showed up at the polls (which are around the corner from me) when there was no race in my district. My mailbox had been empty of solicitations for my vote, which tipped me off, but I went to my polling place anyway, just to be sure.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. Voter suppression is a crime against the Constitution, and should not be tolerated, irrespective of party.

Thank you for considering my opinion, and I wish you and yours health and peace.

Sincerely,

Merideth Genin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sharon Bixby

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Charles Weisbecker

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

I worked to enfranchise voters before I was old enough to vote: carrying petitions door-to-door (remember those?) as a teen opposed to the war in Vietnam, to earn 18-year-olds -- who were being drafted and sent to war -- the right to vote. As an 18-year-old in 1972, I cast my first vote. I have voted in every primary and general, every year, since. I once even showed up at the polls (which are around the corner from me) when there was no race in my district. My mailbox had been empty of solicitations for my vote, which tipped me off, but I went to my polling place anyway, just to be sure.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. Voter suppression is a crime against the Constitution, and should not be tolerated, irrespective of party.

Thank you for considering my opinion, and I wish you and yours health and peace.

Sincerely,

Merideth Genin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bass Reeves

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 05:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Virginia Caraco

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Betty

Date: 09-07-2017 05:01 PM

Subject: Re: September 12 public meeting of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail3

Mr. Ron Williams:

We spoke last week about the fact that my email to you about attending the Commission meeting was sent on Friday, August 25, well before you had reached capacity.

I hope you take that fact, and the knowledge of my extensive involvement in New Hampshire elections, into consideration as you work on the "wait list" for this event.

I would very much like to attend.

Elizabeth A. (Betty) Dunn

REDACTED School District Moderator

Town of REDACTED, Deputy Town Moderator

REDACTED Assistant Attorney General

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. Further, it doesn't address the problems such as hackable voting machines. See

REDACTED

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter

registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

Let's also get rid of any voting machines that don't provide a paper trail, are not user friendly and are hackable (see above). Paper ballots sound better and better don't they?

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

ML Wilm

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Dailey

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dara O'Donnell

5104

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Why am I not surprised, after all the country is the the grasp of people who believe in Nazism, so to find that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter

registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Edward Rengers

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dawn Lillis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Clyde Hartenstine

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

am 81 years old. I have voted in every election until this last election. I have worked as a polling place employee for one election. I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter

registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Doris S. Wilk

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

This is a disgraceful attack on our constitution and our democracy. The "integrity commission" like so much in the Trump presidency is exactly the opposite--an attempt to undermine the integrity of our successful voting system.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all
Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible
American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sarah Stein

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Suzanne Day

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Manetas

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I am nearing 87 years of age. I have voted in every election since I was 21 years old. . .for local, state and national candidates and issues.

I am especially concerned about this Pence-Kobach commission to gather personal data from every voter registrant in every state. To what purpose?

Should not any attempt to register legitimate voters -- and clearing voter roles -- be up to the Secretaries of State and local voter officials?

My fear with the federal government getting involved in voter roles, is the attempt to suppress votes -- when we should be encouraging and registering every eligible voter --IF WE REALLY BELIEVE in democratic values. And, every vote should be counted.

REDACTED, we have automatic voter registration. A step to make sure everyone willing to vote has that option.

Voting is a right. We need to protect that right without a meddlesome commission to modify that effort because someone "thinks" people were voting who should not have been. The states have that obligation and it should be left to them to accomplish it.

Respectfully submitted,

Sincerely,

Frances Greenlee

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert White

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Linda Wassenich

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Carla Lord

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert Lobsinger

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail4

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tri Howard

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail5

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mike Stepankiw

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail5

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Merlene Smith

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail5

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

There is no evidence support voter fraud of any level but there is evidence to support, as per the courts, voter suppression. That's all this is.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stephen Clifford

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail5

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

This so-called commission is unAmerican. I don't know how those involved can sleep at night. This is not about anything other than intimidation and racism. SHAME!

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ramona Young-Grindle

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail5

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lucius Black Jr.

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail5

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The federal government's demand of voter records not publicly made available from the state departments is illegal. The federal government's demand of voter names linked to voter history is unconstitutional, undemocratic, and un-American at the most primal levels of our government structure! The commission is a waste of precious time and tax dollars that should be used to reinstate the department that oversees voter booth technology, cyber attacks at the voting offices, and initiates improvements to counteract foreign interference in our elections! This hypocritical administration has thrown us into opposite land!

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Stamps

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail5

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm appalled that the Pence-Kobach commission recently requested private information about every voter in the country and that it could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. This commission is anti-democratic and un-American and immoral!!!

Sincerely,

Rebecca Freund

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Janice Powalski

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country is just the beginning of more attempts to create nationwide voting restrictions, which will suppress votes.

It should be apparent to all that making sure that every eligible voter can vote and can have their vote counted is the way to insure the integrity of our elections. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to voter participation for all.

It's time to quit making false accusations of voter fraud and to take positive steps to protect the freedom to vote for Americans.

Sincerely,

June Higgins

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Not one penny of tax payer money should be spend on this unnecessary farce of a commission.

Sincerely,

Jo Osmer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

As a computer programmer who worked on transferring data from one insurer's database to another, people's names, addresses, birth-dates, and other personal data depends on the accuracy of data input and the foresight of database designers - both remarkably rare. In other words, garbage in, garbage out.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tim Bardell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

S David Long

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 04:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Grace Padelford

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

Date: 09-07-2017 04:06 PM

Subject: Automatic reply: Presidential Advisory Committee on Election Integrity Upload Link
mail6

Thank you for contacting the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. We have reached maximum capacity for the September 12, 2017 public meeting and are no longer accepting registrations. The meeting will be broadcast online through livestream. Instructions for accessing the livestream will be published soon on REDACTED <REDACTED> .

If you wish to submit a public comment to the Commission, you may do so at REDACTED via the following link: REDACTED <REDACTED> . Please select the "Comment Now" button and follow the instructions on the screen. The Commission no longer accepts public comments through this email account.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Date: 09-07-2017 04:06 PM

Subject: Presidential Advisory Committee on Election Integrity Upload Link
mail6

<REDACTED>

Thank you for your response. Below you will find the link to safely and securely upload your state's data to meet the request.

Once your files have been uploaded, the link will no longer be accessible. Individual files may not exceed 2 GB. If you have questions, please email ElectionIntegrityS<REDACTED>.

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Gabriel Abate

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:48 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jim Melton

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kristina Watkins

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joan Harris

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mark Feder

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Bourdelle

0

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Hasting

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Eileen Keeler

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kathryn LeTourneau

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mark Feder

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

James Flynn

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Peter Reuman

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Richard Kosinski

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Patricia Constantino

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Cindy Hurd

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

SHAWNEE BADGER

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sandie Cochran

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Charlotte Garrett

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country reeks of voter suppression.

The American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The Committee's focus should be on making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not use false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and "We
The People" will do whatever it takes to protect it.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Russell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joyce McDonald

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. This is unacceptable.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I'm sure we're on the same page about doing whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

I look forward to reading your reply email, explaining how you intend to address these pivotal concerns about our great republic in the halls of Congress, in committees, and in court if necessary. Thanks in advance.

Sincerely,

Keith Stillwell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Rosemary Davis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

josh noreuil

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Roland Marconi

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

J. A. Moore

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joyce Harvey

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

My family and I completely agree with this statement and we hope you will take it seriously: I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter

registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kay Haynes

Sincerely,

Kay Haynes

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail6

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I am deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I am glad that state election officials supposedly have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will NOT be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, paper copies for proof against more Republican fraud, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Nazi Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

a.j. stein

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Common Cause

Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM

Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm extremely concerned about the possibility that the Pence-Kobach commission will follow the history of both Pence and Kobach and result in the restriction of voting rights of vulnerable Americans. Universal franchise and the free exercise of voting rights is the most important right in a Democracy and restriction that right undermines our Democracy.

I'm urging the committee to look at ways to expand the availability and convenience of voting rather than restrict it, as I believe all politicians and true Americans should do.

Sincerely,

Allison Fleck

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

You have no right to my private personal information! I'm happy to say the my governor and state AG agree, you'll get no more than what is already public information. Shame on you, your idiotic commission.

This new government of ours sounds more like a dictatorship taking the tactics of Putin when he took control of Russia. We are a free people with rights! It's time you learned that.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marjorie Underwood

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Common Cause

Date: 09-07-2017 03:17 PM

Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm extremely concerned about the possibility that the Pence-Kobach commission will follow the history of both Pence and Kobach and result in the restriction of voting rights of vulnerable Americans. Universal franchise and the free exercise of voting rights is the most important right in a Democracy and restriction that right undermines our Democracy.

I'm urging the committee to look at ways to expand the availability and convenience of voting rather than restrict it, as I believe all politicians and true Americans should do.

Sincerely,

Allison Fleck

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marvin Bunnell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

AL Khakee

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Neal Lawson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Janet Graham

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Allen Dollberg

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

lynda leigh

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

John Beyer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned about the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country. One concern is that it could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting RESTRICTIONS.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters. I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated from exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast. --
The use of false claims about illegal voting is an unconstitutional and unethical attempt suppress votes.

I want to see steps to lower the barriers to voter participation for all Americans. Examples include modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy. I know that "We The People" will do whatever it takes to protect it. I vow not to let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mark Johanningmeir

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

This is NOT my USA, and we will fight you every step of the way. We lag other developed nations and even many emerging nations in access to voting rights. Shameful.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lisa Bernstein

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Lindell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Pitman

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Mason

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

kevin moore

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

EDWARD MURRAY

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail7

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Pierina Provenzano

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

William Lay

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The founding fathers wanted Americans to be able to participate in democracy. So did President Abe Lincoln. Please put country before stroking someone's delusional, hypersensitive ego about the 2016 election. The election is over, and there is no evidence of widespread fraud of any kind.

So please don't undermine the integrity of our electoral process by disenfranchising U.S. citizens.

I'm deeply concerned about the Pence-Kobach commission's preparations to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Walter Tersch

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

This commission would have some credibility if it was truly bipartisan with the leadership shared by a Republican and Democrat. Because of the partisan beliefs of members on the commission, acts and reports from this commission will be suspect of untruths and gerrymandering.

Sincerely,

Kristine Miesner

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast. We need to eliminate gerrymandering and ensure that there is a verifiable paper trail for every vote cast.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible

American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ellen McQueen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country has me deeply worried that it may be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

Fortunately, many state election officials have recognized that this is a partisan attack, and have put their duty to voters first. The right to vote is the bedrock of our democracy; intimidating citizens out of exercising their freedom to vote is absolutely contrary to the spirit of this country.

The answer to any problems with our elections is to make voting better: to ensure every eligible voter participates and has their vote count. We can do this with automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting. These measures will make our democracy stronger. Using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes from the "wrong" people is a cancer that will eat at our democracy from within.

We must protect the freedom to vote. I will not allow this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising that freedom.

Sincerely,

Bryn Neuenschwander

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I protest this commission on so-called voter integrity.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. This amounts to voter SUPPRESSION and is thus a serious violation of our civil rights.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Voting is my right in this country.

Sincerely,

Mary Barbezat

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Foster

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I believe the Pence-Kobach commission is an affront to Americans. The commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country is illegal and immoral and it won't work. We will not be intimidated. We will vote in ever increasing numbers.

If you really want fair elections, then make sure everyone eligible can easily register to vote, that every jurisdiction has the resources to purchase and maintain quality, non-hackable voting equipment, that every municipal clerk is trained in holding fair elections, that the Department of Justice prioritizes and robustly defends voting rights in all parts of our country, and that every eligible voter is able to get to the polls, vote without intimidation, and be sure his vote will count.

What we really want, rather than your phony commission, is automatic voter registration, early and mail in voting, and voting facilities and equipment that is not outdated, broken, compromised, or otherwise useless.

Isn't it incredible that we are an election laughing stock around the world? Work on that, not on trying to intimidate and block eligible voters from casting their ballots.

Sincerely,

Cathy Van Maren

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Enid Miller

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail8

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Peter Van Demark

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail9

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dave Pierot

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail9

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Zachary Barringer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail9

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Shirley Peel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail9

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ronald Howard

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail9

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

American democracy is being attacked from the inside and the outside. Attempts to discourage Americans from voting are treasonous. Whether wrapped in an American or a Russian flag, discouraging voting weakens America. The Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country is an anti-American act that merits immediately ending the PACEI.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Paula Rotondi

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Pery E

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

This is a fake commission looking for a fake crime by a fake president.

34 voter fraud instances out of over one billion votes over the last decade amounts to REDACTED%. This commission is full of BS.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marty Torok

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

American democracy is being attacked from the inside and the outside. Attempts to discourage Americans from voting are treasonous. Whether wrapped in an American or a Russian flag, discouraging voting weakens America. The Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country is an anti-American act that merits immediately ending the PACEI.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Paula Rotondi

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I think the best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast. Significant doubt in these two bedrock principles threatens the legitimacy of our republic. Preventing partisan efforts to frustrate voters and providing a solid audit trail for elections is not hard - it only requires the will to do it and possibly some financial assistance to replace common no paper trail voting machines.

If the commission could make progress on these two critical issues, the commission would be worthy of great praise.

If the commission could extend its mandate to include promoting the use of less partisan provisions in drawing voting districts then not only would eligible voters be able to vote and have confidence that their votes were counted as cast but eligible voters would have a more equal chance of their votes actually mattering to an election outcome. That would be a truly wonderful outcome.

Sincerely,

Doug Karo

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Where I live, it's already difficult enough for citizens to vote. You have to register at least 30 days before the election. To register online, you have to have a Pennsylvania driver's license. With rare exceptions, you can vote only in person and only on election day. And while the polls are open for 13 hours, the lines are long during peak hours before and after work. You often have to travel some distance to get to the polls. Because of gerrymandering I, for example, have to walk past two other polling places in order to cast my vote.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lisa Barsky

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Diane Knutson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Also All states require that candidates pay for a voter list. Will the commission not release any list to the public.

My state gave the list of our voter Texas. If they make the information available to the public that would circumvent our states ability to collect monies. Also it would subject the voters in Texas to unsolicited mail.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth ODear

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Garwin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

The right to vote is vital to the existence of our Democracy. Every person that is eligible to vote should be able to vote with ease and without restriction. No person or entity should be allowed to obstruct a person's right to vote.

Sincerely,

jeff krupnick

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 02:27 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Linda Mintun

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

As someone who has voted in EVERY election very e I became a citizen, more than 75 years ago, I am very concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy. We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Judith Bellin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

My ancestors fought the British to establish a country where the common man could have a real say in government. I am a direct descendant of a Lt. Colonel and commander of a brigade of the Pennsylvania Colonial Militia. They went where they were needed and bolstered the ranks of the continental army, including REDACTED's troops. I take your actions as a personal affront. Your efforts are nothing but subterfuge - a sham based on the fantastic beliefs of a President who is a believer in conspiracy theories and who is preoccupied with his own egotistical image to the detriment of our country. Shame on all of you.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Richard Miller

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

This is outrageous and uncalled-for.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Emily KellIndorfer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, early voting or vote by mail which is working successfully in Washington state are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kim Stocking

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I grew up in a conservative Republican household in the 1950's, an embarrassing era of McCarthyism that threatened our democracy with irrational fear and repression. McCarthyism is defined as:

1. The practice of publicizing accusations of political disloyalty or subversion with insufficient regard to evidence.
2. The use of unfair investigatory or accusatory methods in order to suppress opposition.

That era pails in contrast to the Trump/Pence era where the constitution is ignored and actions by the administration undermine the founder's intent of having three branches of government. The "Communist" take over that McCarthyites were concerned about, would include suppressing voter rights and a destruction of our democracy. It is now being attempted by Republicans who my parents would not have recognized as Republicans. As a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and a Mayflower descendent I must tell you that the Trump base does not represent the values of most Republicans. In fact the policies coming out of the Administration, including the establishment of The Pence-Kovach Commission are an affront to American Democratic values.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

I will uphold my ancestors democratic values and hold you accountable.

Sincerely,

Diane MacInnes

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

You don't fool anyone. The Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country is likely the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions... so as to disenfranchise as many poor and non-white voters as possible. It's outrageous on so many levels and, frankly, pathetic to see my father's GOP become so desperate to hold on to power through any means instead of working to build a better nation.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast-- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Melinda Skinner

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tennie Caldwell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stephen Gliva

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

I abhor that persons such as yourself are willing to engage in such partisan attacks on our democracy. As other advisory committees have done, you should disband your committee and try to regain your morality and understanding of democracy.

Sincerely,

Patricia Rowell

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Davey

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joanne Dean-Freemire

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Nancy Hale

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Barb Travis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mara Samuels

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Phillip Hope

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:57 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

We take our voting rights very seriously, but with so little true evidence of voter fraud, our public servants should be doing their jobs, rather than drumming up false support for false causes.

Sincerely,

Sara McMechan

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Edward Geppert

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Erik Schnabel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Vanna Cleary

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Patrick Williams

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Simply stated, the Pence Kobach Commission is a device to implement the Republican backed all out effort to restrict voting rights on a national basis, with special emphasis on the demographics that support progressive government. It must be recognized as REDACTED disbanded.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Raymond Lampe

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Common Cause

Date: 09-07-2017 01:47 PM

Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The freedom to vote is a core American value. Voting rights should be expanded and modernized. We should be trying to encourage every eligible person to vote, not try to suppress and limit peoples' constitutional right to register and vote and have their vote count.

Sincerely,

Patricia Orth

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail10

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

This commission is a transparent fake, a fig leaf for a naked attempt to disenfranchise a huge segment of the American people. If you, the members of the commission, had a shred of integrity you would resign and go back to the jobs you were elected or appointed to do.

Sincerely,

David Penzel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

marguery lee zucker

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

People who attempt to make it harder for eligible voters to vote should be IN JAIL.

Sincerely,

Jeff Johnson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Trisha Miller

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I do not want my personal information and voting history to reside in the office of the executive branch of the Federal government, accessible to President Trump or any future President.

I'm in favor of modernizing our systems to use both a paper ballot and electronic tabulation scanning, currently used by the State of Minnesota. I also favor Election Day voter registration, and early voting.

I feel the President's Commission will erode our freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Gregory Palmieri

Retired Federal Reserve Bank

Sincerely,

Gregory Palmieri

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Common Cause

Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM

Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Voting rights are one of the most sacred blocks in the foundation of our Democracy.

THE RIGHT TO EASILY REGISTER AND VOTE IS ESSENTIAL AND DESERVES TO BE EXPANDED, NOT LIMITED.

Sincerely,

Jack Burg

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned about the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country which could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

What, you aren't happy enough that you already "won" the election by cheating the American people and treasonously colluding with a foreign power?

I'm proud of our state election officials who have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote. We are savvy to what you're trying to pull here and it's unpatriotic, un-Democratic & un-American.

Real voter fraud is a nearly unheard of and unseen act and you are only using that scepter to try to further discriminate & suppress the people's vote. We are NOT buying it. We realize that GOP district gerrymandering and unscrupulous efforts to suppress & disenfranchise the Democratic vote on many fronts was the only way that you could "win" the election, but you didn't, you stole the election.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to further suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, paper ballots and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for ALL Americans and this will be what we're fighting for going forward.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. We will not let your fraudulent Commission intimidate any eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. We have only begun to fight.

Sincerely,

Layne Horwitz

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

judith Peter

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Luke Metzger

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

The fact that an "election integrity" investigation does not include probing data hacking, collusion and information manipulation by foreign and outside players says it all about the actual integrity of this commission.

Sincerely,

G. Fries

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Carol Feingold

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Alan Brown

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bonaventure Moccia

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dawn Picard

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

This smacks of 3rd world dictatorships or Russian style elections.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Howard Lischeron

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

LEWIS MORALES

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

It is a travesty that the Pence-Kobach Commission is attempting to intimidate voters in order to suppress voters' ability to vote. The basic premise for the Commission's existence, voter fraud, is a lie. It underscores the fact that Republican policies are strongly opposed by at least half of our nation's eligible voters. It further underscores that Republicans are afraid to allow that opposition to have a voice.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mike Sheppard

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

You can't make getting registered harder by closing office hours or limiting them to a few hours a month, and expect to be lauded, or to be called "fair." You can't demand ID that people can't get, and expect to be called "fair." You can't delete thousands of registered voters out of hand because you "think" they're trying to vote illegally, with absolutely no proof of it, and expect to be called "fair."

But then, you aren't trying to be fair, are you?

Sincerely,

Crickett Hutchinson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

I did not spend 20 years in the Marine Corps defending REDACTED of it's citizens and the Constitution to have a bunch of selfish, greedy hypocrites destroy a cornerstone of the democracy.

Sincerely,

Walter Jones

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Wendy Stock

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I call on you to do the same.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. We evaluate your claims by your evidence, and it is in short supply. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do what it takes to protect it.

Sincerely,

K Jarvis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Laura Grevas

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lil Sponaas

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

The integrity and privacy of a citizens vote is fundamental of a democratic government. ANY attempt to violate those rights should be met with the full force of the law - no matter whose name is on the paperwork - up to and including a president!

Sincerely,

Sher Pullen Weinstein

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Novotny

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mary Stevens

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

The 'deeply concerned' tone of this form letter fails to convey my sense of outrage at this Stasi-like transgression of our right to privacy in an attempt to further the conservative manipulation of Americans' right to vote. Cease and desist!!

Sincerely,

Rael Nidess, M.D.

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Shelah Peters

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. I hope your intent is not for a fascist United States of America.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

REDACTED

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bill Hilton

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

William P. White

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Hebbeler

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote .

Sincerely,

Grady Warren

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mary Mutch

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 01:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robyn Richard

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. I am so familiar with Kobach's illegal Interstate Crosscheck...I follow Greg Palast and am well informed on this issue. Wasn't surprised that someone from Heritage is on the so called Commission. Don tRump is not a legal president, Hillary won straight up. REDACTED Your corruption makes all of us ill.

Sincerely,

Judith Hayes

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Nora Polk

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ted Silen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Sorry Common Cause and We The People, but I actually support the Pence-Kobach PCEI commission.

I served as an election judge in my north side Chicago precinct for the 2008 Obama presidential election. Some men with African accents showed up and wanted to vote. They were not on the voter rolls and could show no valid I.D. They finally admitted that they were not even U.S. citizens. We couldn't help wondering what would have happened if those men had showed up at a south or west side predominately black precinct, where there were huge turnouts for Obama. Would they have been allowed to vote?

I believe that every voter should be required to have valid I.D. to vote. I also believe that Election Day in America should be changed to the first weekend in November, with voting on both Saturday and Sunday.

I also believe that in our highly mobile society, a national voter database should be established -- with appropriate personal information -- to track voter registration and correct voter rolls as necessary, so that people who move are not registered in two, three, or more places at the same time.

Sincerely,

Paul Thomas

Sincerely,

Paul Thomas

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned about the Pence-Kobach commission. Instead of facilitating voters right to vote this is clearly an attempt to suppress it. The commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

Most importantly, in this age of technical hacks into our voting systems the need for a paper trail should be mandatory!

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Ideally a different commission would be formed with higher ideals for reforming our voting process for the good of all of the public!

Sincerely,

Susan Dannenfelser

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Richard Tregidgo

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stephen and Robin Newberg

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Brian Kuhn

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

bill simmons

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned and HORRIFIED that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country. At a time when privacy is under attack and political actions are unconstitutional in many ways, this new attack on my liberty is unacceptable!

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Janine Stovall

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

LARRY BRANSON

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. Your focus on destroying voters rights is un-American. Your hate, racism, bigotry, support of Nazis, KKK and supremacists must not stand. You represent everything that is against America.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Steve Phillips

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote .

Sincerely,

Joan Raphael

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:47 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marjorie Wherley

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Nancy Ellingham

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Betty Marianetti

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sue Eriksson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

curt clay

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Finally, the argument that "voter fraud or undocumented immigrants voting" is a bogus argument and the historical facts and data prove ... this is NOT a political issue in any sense, but Republicans sure want to make it political issue, and the bottom line in that regard amounts to "vote suppression" and that IS NOT America in any sense.

Sincerely,

Danny M. Francis, 1st Lt. USMC (Ret.)

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Diane Hulen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. This is nuts, and it is wrong.

The only illegal voters in the last election were the Russians, and I believe one or two Americans (both Republicans, for what it's worth). Election fraud by Americans is almost unheard of, and it's a waste of valuable time and money to "investigate" it. This commission is a transparent attempt to suppress voting by minorities and others the Republicans don't like.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not by using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Gloria Boyer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joanne Neale

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Albert Copeland

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joe Frascone

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Rachael Pappano

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Edward Cowan

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Scarlett Hepworth

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Bruce Cratty

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Edward Sharp

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

On a more personal note, I've been thoroughly disgusted by this naked partisan power grab. I live in a district where the Republican house incumbent is vulnerable in 2018. I don't even know who his opponent(s) might be, but after hearing about this commission, they've sure got my vote.

Sincerely,

Melinda Varkel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Patricia Foley

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joan Armer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Domingo Hermosillo

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

LINDA AUSTIN-BUSS

REDACTED9755

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sandy Coulter

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Henry Goff

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:46 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Karen and Will Lozow Cleary

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

It is disgusting and criminal that the Pence Kobach commission has asked for personal data on voters... Smoke screens and criminal acts is all that this commission is about....

I have had my right to vote attacked before by a republican that used the existing laws to just file a statement that he did not believe that I lived at my address... There was 1200 in my county alone... That is the criminal acts of the republican party... Worse than organized crime, because they hide like little drama queens...

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Greg Gregg

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote .

Sincerely,

Mollie Story

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Terry Vollmer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mary Jane Engh

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

It seems the current administration and its hardcore base embrace

Orwellian principals:

War is peace. Freedom is slavery. Ignorance is strength. News is fake.

The Pence-Kobach commission's request for private information about every voter in the country is Orwellian in nature, and serves to make a lie true, specifically that there is wide-spread voter fraud. This is a lie to justify voter suppression of minorities, young people and urban voters.

I'm applaud state officials who are rejecting this attack on their voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all
Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible
American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Aubrey McCleskey

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Anita Stevens

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Republicans and Democrats should come together to defeat this commission's actions and to disband it.

Sincerely,

Sharon Davlin

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Brian Bazilus

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail11

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Judith Pack

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Common Cause

Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM

Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

The Pence-Kobach Commission is a completely obvious attempt to continue the Republican tradition of voter fraud and suppression that has served them so well.

Sincerely,

Greg Cahill

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kelli Lent

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Winter

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mike Souza

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Since I turned 18 years old (over 50 years ago, I have never missed an opportunity to cast my vote, even in the smallest of local elections. It is both my duty and my privilege as an American to cast my private ballot.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all
Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible
American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Johnson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Karen and Will Lozow Cleary

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stephen Moyer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

SYLVANA ARGUELLO

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

J E Whipple

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Bradley

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stephen Moyer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kevin Rauch

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kevin Rauch

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Levy

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Heide Catherina Coppotelli

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

mary anthony

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Nick Kyriacou

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Republicans have a long standing goal to suppress all voters that are not white, elitists. This commissions is nothing more than that to mirror a racist, thug of a chief executive.

Sincerely,

Lance Karkruff

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Brigitta Gundersen

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Vito Conte

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. Under the guise of rooting out voter fraud, this commission is really a strong effort to disenfranchise voters who do not support the ultra-conservative agenda. It is particularly geared to voter suppression of minorities and people of color, and others who tend to vote Democratic. As such it is inherently anti-democratic and anti-American.,

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Weiss

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Linda Amspaugh

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

paul robinson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Staley Slawson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

This note comes to express my deep concerns about the so-called Election Integrity Commission. There is certainly room for improvement in our election system. It comes in the way of making it easier for citizens to vote, not by raising false issues like voter fraud. There is no proof of widespread voter fraud & I resent my tax money being spent in this manner. If the commission truly wants to make a positive difference, it will ensure that voters are not disenfranchised. Make it easier to vote by mail, make early voting periods longer, & accept simple forms of i.d. Do your part to keep the ,American Dream alive.

Sincerely,

Kara Lee Ruckriegel

Sincerely,

Kara Lee Ruckriegel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Sheldon Burkhalter

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Michaela Haugabook

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Anna Ogunnaike

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Fred Coppotelli

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jim Freeberg

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Barbara J. Ginther

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. The Commission is a stain on our Democracy and our values. It is outrageous, unconscionable, and extremely irresponsible. It is a form of terror against the people who vote for Democrats! Can't Republicans find a way to win in any other way than cheating?

Sincerely,

Cheri Gaspero

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robin Favor

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Anna Ogunnaike

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I am also quite concerned that this commission seems to be loaded with officials who wish to make voting harder.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Emily Blank

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Katerina Kokolis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Your ridiculous and completely dishonest commission is utterly false!
I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions. You are nothing but liars and public enemies and beyond contempt.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.
Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter

registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

thomas warner

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Stacy Morse

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

Get real for even one minute. Stop being so smugly fake! You know -- and everyone else knows, too! -- what you're trying to do: disenfranchise folks. Talk about wrong-headed and bad-hearted. What is a democracy with citizens who can't vote? A dictatorship, a Nazi empire, a Putin state. We the people are not fooled. We know your end game. You will lose. I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Juley Harvey

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail12

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

My initial reaction to the appointment of a committee on Election Integrity was suspect. Particularly since the President had falsely stated 'facts' about the voting in the 2016 Presidential election.

The to have the Committee Chair, a well known individual who supports limiting voters through Jim Crow tactics. I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm am so pleased that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all
Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible
American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mary Ross

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jim McClure

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tracy Novotny

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Susan Hancock

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans. For more details on how to do this, see:

>REDACTED<

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the right to vote.

Sincerely,

Kathryn Riss

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

There is nothing more precious, or essential, to the sustenance of our democratic traditions than the RIGHT TO VOTE. To further our democracy we should be making the exercise of that right EASIER and MORE INCLUSIVE.

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast --

not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all
Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible
American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Felicia Bruce

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

max sidle4

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote. You have been forewarned.

Sincerely,

Jon Wood

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

katherine dander

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Todd Corbett

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

William Kneedler

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert O'Connor

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 12:16 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

You are not fooling anyone. Under the cloak of alleged legitimacy, you are endeavoring to invade the privacy of citizens without their permission in order to gather data that you can then use to concoct new gerrymander schemes and other devious methods to manipulate voters or prevent them from voting.

The Citizens United decision has given you the means to accomplish all of the above without further harassment of citizens. Why don't you just leave us our privacy and use your ill gotten bazillions to fund your devious schemes. Currently that is legal. Invading privacy is not.

Sincerely,

Mary Alice Lo Cicero

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Brendan McCann
Date: 09-07-2017 12:07 PM
Subject: Voter fraud investigation in NH
mail13

To Whom It Concerns:

The current investigation of voter fraud in New Hampshire conveys poor prioritization of current voting issues. While voter disenfranchisement is demonstrable and easy to find in real life, allegations of voter fraud are dubious at best. Democracy would be better served by simplifying the voting process, making it more accessible and convenient for citizens, and by promoting communications that encourage civic engagement.

Voting should be simple. Voting should be unintimidating. Everyone should vote.

Thank you for your effort.

Sincerely,

Brendan McCann

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Ed Naile
Date: 09-07-2017 12:07 PM
Subject: REDACTED
mail13

Here is the first part of what The Coalition of New Hampshire Taxpayers has to submit for the Sept. 12, hearing at St. Anselm College in REDACTED.

Thank You

Ed Naile

Chair

CNHT

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:47 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

George V. Hill, Jr

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:47 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Laura L Bradley

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Matt Ringquist

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Morgan Lazenby

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote .

Sincerely,

Miriam Haberfeld

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

If you are truly concerned about election integrity, please work to restore faith in our voting systems to ensure there are no outside hacking and/or interference attempts from Russia in our upcoming elections rather than restricting eligible voters!

Sincerely,

Traci Kurtzer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert Oestreicher

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

M Langelan

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Diane Stark

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Darrell Jones

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Pat Moore

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marilyn P Safir PhD

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Joe Pfister

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Robert Leeds

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Mary Alice Lo Cicero

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Dan Luria

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Nape

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:46 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Greg Stawinoga

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-07-2017 11:16 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail13

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 7, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jack Mumby

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Peter Hoe Burling

Date: 09-07-2017 08:44 AM

Subject:

mail20

I have served as an election official in New Hampshire for more than forty years, as a Moderator, election observer and participant in numerous recounts (including one of my own). During that forty year period, Granite State elections have been fundamentally free from individual voter fraud. Our Secretary of State says that "worries" about voter fraud justify changes to our voting laws. But anxiety about rampant voter fraud is a product of massive misinformation spread by one political party as part of an effort to suppress the vote. Our democracy will not survive if large numbers of voters are denied their access to the franchise. Our political institutions should be figuring out how to get more people to vote, by things like early voting, automatic registration, making holidays of voting days, and guaranteeing that our electronic voting systems are secure and capable. This Commission must be working to protect the voting rights of all qualified citizens, not just those who are deemed to be OK by the GOP.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Denise Richardson
Date: 09-06-2017 05:24 PM
Subject: voters
mail24

I feel every state should keep their voter information up to date and correct.

I think they should do this on a regular basis. Many states do not.

I hope President Trump will mandate all states to maintain correct voter information to keep our elections honest!

Denise Richardson

Virus-free. >REDACTED<

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Lynn Madden
Date: 09-06-2017 03:32 PM
Subject: Voting
mail24

Isn't it wonderful that many individuals that are not eligible to vote actually want to? How about those who ARE eligible to vote and could care less. Shame on them. What a privilege it is to live in a nation of laws/ Under God. Let us have a Nation with integrity!

Lynn Madden

San Diego, CA

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-06-2017 11:20 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail24

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 6, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jesse Littlewood

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: REDACTED
Date: 09-06-2017 12:20 AM
Subject: citizen comment
mail24

Voter fraud, with millions of illegal votes being cast, is a fraud. Many, many studies have looked for this kind of fraud and thoroughly debunked this myth.

Election fraud, including attempts by Russian agents to hack our election systems, restrictive and unconstitutional voter ID laws, purging legally registered voters who simply haven't voted recently or have the same name as another voter problem? These are the kind of fraud that directly harms our democracy. This is the kind of fraud that demands investigation. This is the kind of fraud Kris Kobach, the co-chair of the Commission, has already done -- using the same kind of voter info he's requesting now.

The real fraud in our democracy is when voting is made more difficult -- a problem that disproportionately affects younger Americans, lower income communities, and communities of color. Forget the fevered dreams of those who want to restrict the franchise, and look at the real fraud perpetrated by those who would disenfranchise citizens.

*****

Darkness cannot drive out darkness; only light can do that.

Hate cannot drive out hate: only love can do that.

Martin Luther King, Jr. (1REDACTED)

Dr. Cynthia Hudley

>REDACTED<

*****

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Maura Willing
Date: 09-05-2017 10:27 PM
Subject: Election concerns
mail24

As a resident of New Hampshire my largest concern is what influence Russians had and continue to have on our elections. I would also like to see more options for voting: electronic, mail-in, same-day. Please make voting as easy as possible.

Thank you

Maura Willing

REDACTED

REDACTED

Sent from my iPhone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: John-David Coker
Date: 09-05-2017 07:23 PM
Subject: Ideas for voting ID laws.
mail24

Hello,

I am submitting the attached PDF for ideas on laws related to the electoral process. Under the section titled "New Laws for a New Era (subheading: Voting and ID Laws)" you can find the pertinent information, this is page 9 of the PDF.

Thank You,

A Citizen

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: John Raby
Date: 09-05-2017 05:12 PM
Subject: Concerns of a Constituent
mail24

Given the lack of evidence of any large-scale voter fraud in our state, I am extremely concerned about the damage to voting rights that the commission is all too likely to inflict. Combined with gerrymandering and the current extreme influence of money in politics, it is a perfect system for bending elections in favor of those in power and substituting a highly militarized and racist plutocracy for the just and democratic nation we once hoped America would be. I thought New Hampshire was better than that, but now I have my doubts.

The commission's very existence is appalling and deeply distressing. The most constructive thing it can do is disband.

Yours truly,

John Raby

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Sylvia Kaufman
Date: 09-05-2017 05:03 PM
Subject: Feedback from experience as Poll Worker in California
mail24

I have worked as an election Poll Worker in California for the last few years. It's something I enjoy doing and take seriously. I am also a naturalized citizen. I feel that it's a great privilege to participate as a voter and that this privilege should not be taken lightly.

Some commendable efforts I see is as follows:

- 1) Training of Poll Workers is very detailed with handouts that are helpful and trainers that are knowledgeable
- 2) The Elections office does a good job in making sure precincts have all the materials they need in an organized manner
- 3) Election Office Support staff try to do a good job in assisting Poll Workers during elections.

Areas of concern:

- 1) Rosters have errors and have names of deceased voters or voters no longer living in the area. On both of these instances, I have had voters, upon signing in to vote, point out to me these errors when they have knowledge of the person on roster. Some have been out of area or deceased for years, according to some of the comments I've received.
- 2) It's my opinion that too many provisional voting ballots are issued, especially during the last election.
- 3) There are voters that, even though not required in California, show their ID which I find to be very helpful and reassuring that they are the right person. I've also received comments from voters that showing an ID should be required to ensure voting integrity.
- 4) Although most Poll Workers try to do a good job, I've observed that there have been instances where Poll Workers were too lax and or not able to do a good job due to lack of ability i.e. unable to focus on task for a period of time.
- 5) I've also observed individuals brought in by others to vote who did not appear to be aware of the process or what or who they were voting for. In some instances they were very limited in their ability to speak English.
It appeared that the people who brought them in were there to try and coach them.
- 6) The area that I live in California does not have computerized ballots. At the end of the election paper ballots are put in cardboard boxes and taken to drop off location. It seems that there must be a more secure way to handle this, even though 2 Poll Workers are assigned to turn ballots in.

Thank you for the opportunity to share my experience.

from my iPhone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-05-2017 02:18 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail24

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 5, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Once someone has the information all that it takes to throw the voting process into chaos is to simply change a letter (or letters) in a name or change numbers. By the time it is caught and straightened it is too late.

Sincerely,

William Kasprzyński

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Jas Richy

Date: 09-05-2017 01:32 AM

Subject: FORENSIC INVESTIGATION INTO THE CORRUPTED VOTING COUNT MODEL WHICH WAS USED TO REGULATE THE UK 2015 GENERAL ELECTION AND SINCE OFFERED PRO BONO TO PCEI BY AIFLtd DL 6 PAGES 5 September 2 REDACTED mail24

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity ( PCEI ),

FORENSIC INVESTIGATION INTO THE CORRUPTED VOTING COUNT MODEL WHICH WAS USED TO REGULATE THE UK 2015 GENERAL ELECTION AND SINCE OFFERED PRO BONO TO PCEI BY AIFLtd DL 6 PAGES 5 September 2 REDACTED

1) Applied I F Limited in the United Kingdom would like to Submit this Information to the Commission

2) The above Title has been written to exactly reflect both the Subject Matter of the Evidence being Submitted, and the exact Computer Archive Label of the Single 6 Page Attachment , so as to make the Submission as simple as possible

3) Again the Style in which the Attachment has been written , precision, concision, clarity and coherence has been the aim

4) AIFLtd urges the Commission initially to focus solely upon the Voting Count Model and the Number of Vote Categories which were used by the Federal Election Commission ( The FEC ) to Regulate Elections as per the Special Delivery Letter written to, and received by, the FEC, and which was written to the previous Inspector General Ms Lynne A McFarland

5) The 1 Page List of 9 Questions ( Not necessarily exhaustive ) and which were asked of the FEC are contained within the Attachment, and the reality of the length of the Submission is 3 1/2 Pages, split into 79 Numbered Items almost all of a single line, including Links for convenience of the Members of the Commission

6) Item 55 is perhaps the most significant point , highlighted in green

7) Applied I F Limited will be only too pleased to answer any questions which the Commission may raise ?

8) Please note that for convenience here in the UK, this email has been sent from an alternate Email REDACTED <mailto:REDACTED> and copied to REDACTED <mailto:REDACTED>

* Kind Regards Applied I F Limited

* Directors : Lorraine Smith + Geoffrey Stansfield

* >REDACTED<

* Speaking Truth Unto Power

* Counting Votes Is Not Rocket Science

* Applied I F Limited , Rosebery Hotel 2-4 Rosebery Crescent, Jesmond, Newcastle upon REDACTED 2 1ET ;

* Best Telephone Mobile REDACTEDREDACTED8;

* Alternative Land Line +44 91 281 33 63 ( Rosebery Hotel Booking Line - Family Business )

* File Note

* LS + GS to PCEI - Submission to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity ( PCEI ),

* Tuesday 5 September 2017 06.30 : BST

---

This email has been checked for viruses by Avast antivirus software.

>REDACTED<

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Shana Egan
Date: 09-05-2017 01:29 AM
Subject: Problems with the CA Election Code
mail24

It appears to me, the CA Election Code not only does not protect against election fraud, but facilitates it.

I have attached a MS Word file with comments on what I think are the worst parts of the Code.

I have served as a Poll Worker and for several years have acted as a Poll Observer in San Diego County. Generally speaking, most Poll Workers try to do a good job. However, I have seen numerous violations of the Election Code repeatedly year after year. I have reported these violations, but they keep occurring.

Two of the most frequent violations I have observed are:

Lack of privacy for the voter. Voting booths are often set up so anyone walking by can observe a voter. Sometimes I have seen booths set up so someone in another voting booth can look over at another voter. I have also seen several people sitting side by side at a table voting.

One of the few ways to try to prevent voter fraud is the requirement that Poll Workers ask voters for their name and address. Unfortunately, many Poll Workers ask for the voter's name. They then tell the voter the address they have for them and ask if it is correct.

Thank you for taking the time to listen to our concerns.

Shoshana Egan

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-04-2017 10:17 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail24

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 4, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

If the contest can't be won honestly then it must lose.

The Trump team efforts to interfere with voters by intimidation and other malfeasance is wholly unacceptable and repugnant.

Sincerely,

J Ellis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Dawn Jones

Date: 09-04-2017 08:42 PM

Subject: Election fraud

mail24

As a poll worker I have seen people come in, say they want to vote and be given a provisional ballot on the spot. Folks that can't speak English or know how to vote are allowed an interpreter inside the voting booth! I have witnessed no voter rolls posted outside, electioneering within 50 feet of an open door to the polling place at Hartnell college (done by Obama supporters). As a FedEx courier I have witnessed the same bus load of Hispanic folks driving from one polling place in Chular to Soledad (10 miles away) and again in REDACTED. I'm sure as it was the same bus and the same lady with a green polka dot scarf entering the polling places. While calling one year to get out the vote we were told repeatedly that the person we were calling had passed away or moved. We turned in this information to the registrar but the next cycle the names were still on the rolls. I have called the 800 phone number to report voter fraud and was told to drop it. My husband and I went in to the registrars office and ask him how he can determine who is eligible to vote when all that get a license are automatically registered whether they are illegal or not and he said, "We believe people are inherently honest".

Illegal voting and fraud are alive and well in California. Help!!

Sent from my iPad

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-04-2017 08:15 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail24

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 4, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

EILEEN KEENAN

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Eric Schaller
Date: 09-03-2017 06:22 PM
Subject: Election Integrity
mail24

elections without valid voter photo ID are a disgrace and smack of third world dictators...

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Stanford Brown
Date: 09-03-2017 02:01 PM
Subject: Election fraud
mail24

Hi, I already sent a CD of a talk radio program in which a republican candidate lost in a district where Republicans were a majority. He did a years study and found out REDACTED revealing, e.g. the farm labor unions telling their illegals they must vote Democrat and one store owner who registered derelicts to vote by mail (to her store) in exchange for coffee.

My belief is, if we go to a computerized voting system the Rep. candidate will lose. We also need cameras in vote counting areas that can be reviewed by reps of both parties. Representative Hank Johnson, a Dem. from Georgia introduced legislation last Sept. to provide paper trails. Since the Dems think the Republicans are the bad guy, now might be a good time to provide a fail safe vote count piece of legislation. (See PC Magazine.. "Who is Hacking The Vote" Nov. 2016) One reason I hold this position is because I am a techy I know voting machines can be compromised (look how all of the broken machines gave votes to Democrats only) but the second is the back door entrances can be installed by the manufacturer. Look at China adding secret back doors in tech product. When caught they said to get feedback for improvements. The election of a Communist tied and Muslim tied President possible could have to Bill Gates? who was a REPUBLICAN appointed by Pres. O. as Secretary of Defense. Why??? Stry is that Bill owned a voter machine company in the State where he miraculously was elected against all odds.. Pres. O. took an interest in him and voila, Obama was also elected. Coincidence?????

Thanks for asking for feedback. One thing you need to prove to the American people is that voting machines are not safe.

Yours for a better America,

Stanford Brown in REDACTED.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Donald Haddock
Date: 09-03-2017 01:53 PM
Subject: California election fraud
mail24

Please investigate allegations of voter fraud throughout California. Thanks to the Motor Voter law illegals were allowed to register when they got given driver's licenses. REDACTED allowed all illegals to have driver's licenses and register them to vote. Also, a law protecting against voter fraud was watered down so that no penalty would result from anyone voting. There are hundreds of stories of people seeing groups of Spanish-speaking people encouraging elders and young people in line to vote. They were not questioned at all. There are many that believe at least a half a million illegal Mexicans voted in the presidential election. There is no doubt there is rampant fraud. Please come to California and look into this. We cannot survive as a Democratic Society if our election process is completely rot with fraud.

Sent from Yahoo Mail on Android

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Sally Davis
Date: 09-03-2017 11:07 AM
Subject: My thoughts for the NH Commission meeting to hear
mail24

Sally J Davis

50 Sugar Run

REDACTED REDACTED

I have lived and participated in town activities here since moving here in 1999. I pay great attention to voting procedures and have most of my life. As a military spouse for 22 years, I worried about absentee ballots getting counted when we lived in Germany or when I wanted to vote separately from my husband but the state laws prevented it. I look for attempts to discourage voting and for attempts to sabotage accurate counting of votes as actually cast.

I am most concerned about the dependence upon computers in our system of voting and how many of our states have Polls and Voter Rolls dependent on them and their vulnerabilities. This is where your Commission can in fact help us with reliable and real voting accuracy. Our country is on the brink of losing all faith in the processes and intentions of government at every level. If states are to continue being responsible for elections, expertise must be provided and supported financially. Discrimination must end whether someone is a student or a minority. I am 81 years old and while I have lived through scandals and assassinations of a President and other important citizens, I have never been so fearful about our nation's continued existence.

Sincerely,

Sally J Davis

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Robert Hudson
Date: 09-03-2017 10:38 AM
Subject: Valid Votes
mail24

We completely support efforts to make sure our voting is correct and accurate and only by lawful voters. We believe from many anecdotal reports locally that illegal voting is taking place, both by noncitizen and by persons who are masquerading as other registered voters. Laws such as California's alien driver license law makes it much easier for persons to register to vote and validation at the voting booth is lax.

We urge strong action to protect the integrity of our voting system.

Robert and Marlene Hudson

REDACTED

REDACTED

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: Lisa King

Date: 09-03-2017 04:11 AM

Subject:

mail24

I am hopeful that you will be able to cleanup the voting mess. If our voting system worked as it was intended the country would get back to where it is supposed to be. One vote for every ELIGIBLE CITIZEN. It is not meant to be a tool used by a group of politicians but rather by We The People. It is a true crime against the people when a group of politicians high jack a system in fear of what the people will say. I stand behind your efforts to restore the true voice of We The People to this country.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-02-2017 06:12 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail25

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 2, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Westra

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Neil MacCallister
Date: 09-02-2017 05:26 PM
Subject: Thank you!
mail25

Thank you for the work you are doing!

"A vote, is a citizen thinking, deciding, and going down to the polls on election day -- to contribute whatever wisdoms they have learned in their life so far.

"A vote, is the thought that the citizen directs."

***

If the directed thoughts of a nation's citizens are clipped into incoherence by 'lost boxes of ballots', if directed thoughts are made to sound gibberish by there being constant interjections of non-citizens' votes; if those directed thoughts are smothered by the shouting down of citizens' peaceful assembly rights by a sent few Democrats within the balcony of Republican Conventions, or democrats in the desk chairs of the IRS, or by the black masked and hooded democrats waving clubs at students within the once-hallowed public square of UC Berkeley,..

..well, ..what do the doctors call a state of diffusion, confusion, and disarray of 'directed thought'?

..epilepsy?? ..dementia?? ..insanity??

***

Just like with our nation's roads, bridges, electrical grid, water control, air-traffic system, our nation's voting system is also in long overdue need of structural repair -- or else we may permanently lose our citizens' ability to think, decide, vote, and live, in a rational manner.

Thank you for your work,

Good luck !! .. :)

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Charlotte James
Date: 09-02-2017 04:16 PM
Subject: Voter identity impertive!
mail25

Dear President Trump,

I have worked for EIP on election days, and we have observed irregularities and documented them all over California.

There is also proof all over the states that more people vote than there are registered voters.

There is also proof that dead people vote absentee!

The list goes on and on!

We the people demand VOTER ID, we deserve honest elections, PLEASE.

We have to have IDs for everything else! including welfare checks!

Sincerely,

Charlotte James

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Charles Williams
Date: 09-02-2017 02:41 PM
Subject: More honest elections.
mail26

The only way to make an election more honest is to make all voters show a picture ID with a barcode on it that has to be swiped into a reader. Yes I know the Left will never go for it, it is the only way. I found 125 dead voters on the San Diego Voters list when I was volunteering for the Calif, EIP org. We are still monitoring elections in California.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: REDACTED
Date: 09-02-2017 02:20 PM
Subject: To whom it may concern
mail26

REDACTED, we have deep corruption here in Riverside County

1. Murrieta. an Hispanic man comes to the front desk and says a name to my friend REDACTED of Murrieta who is working the polls. There is nobody with that name. He then says another name . He left angry because he didn't get to illegally vote.
2. Perris- My friend REDACTED was working the polls and one lady came in with 7 absentee ballots made out to her. Another came in with 15. They were Hispanic and were Democrats.
3. Buses go from polling place to polling place to vote for the dead and those who have not voted yet.
4. A friend, REDACTED called me on election night to tell me that someone had voted for his dead mother. This was LA. She was gone 2 years at that time.

Robert (Bob) Kowell

REDACTED Via Espana

REDACTED REDACTED

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Matt Deloge
Date: 09-02-2017 02:09 PM
Subject: Question for the Commission
mail27

I would like to know exactly how many false positives are created by comparing registry names in the Interstate crosscheck system. Beyond that, in states that force these false ppsotive voters to use a provisional ballot, how many of those provisional ballots are counted to the final tally.

Thank you in advance for your response. If you need to speak to me regarding these questions my phone number is REDACTED.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: REDACTED
Date: 09-02-2017 01:48 PM
Subject: Every Lawfully Vote Counted
mail27

Thank you for asking my opinion.

One of the most important and unbelievably stupid things NOT being implemented and required is simply expecting everyone who is voting to show proper ID.

Everything and anything important we do in this nation requires us to show an identification of who we are with a legal Document; a driver's license, whatever! Voting is one of the most important things we do in our nation and anyone can walk in and say they are whoever they think they might be and vote without any ID!

This is my input: make it mandatory to request ID! You must have it to vote! REDACTED, no voting!

What you're doing is important, thank you.

Sent from AOL Mobile Mail

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Jennifer Hontucan
Date: 09-02-2017 01:13 PM
Subject: The Ballot
mail27

I have never had a problem voting here in San Diego, however, I am concerned about Democrat controlled areas like parts of Chicago, Philadelphia, Seattle and the like. We know there has been blatant cheating because it isn't possible for one area with a large population to get 99 percent of the vote for one party. That is why I why voter ID laws should absolutely be put into place! People in all kinds of communities agree on this. Virtually everyone has an ID and at the very least, everybody has access to getting one. Please pass this simple law, that ensures all people's votes will be counted.

In appreciation,

Jennifer Hontucan

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-02-2017 01:11 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail27

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 2, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Marc Woersching

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Christine Moosa
Date: 09-02-2017 12:49 PM
Subject: Voter Fraud
mail27

To the election integrity staff:

I got involved in the Election Integrity Project (EIP) in California after the election in November 2008. At 7:00 am I observed two young people exiting a voter location in downtown Fallbrook. What caught my attention was that they appeared out of place. They were dressed very casually in sandals, jeans and unclean tee shirts. People who are voting at that time are usually going to work. Instead they were both giggling as they were exiting and walking to their car. I followed them to another voter location a few miles away. While I sat in my car it was apparent they went in and voted again. Once again walking to their car giggling. It was obvious to me that they were on their way to another location to vote again. This was mapped out.

In 2016 President Obama went on a Latin television station stating it was “illegal” to ask for identification. It was a clarion call for any and all illegal votes. I sincerely believe there was a minimum of three million illegal votes, and Donald Trump still managed to win the Presidency.

Christine Moosa

REDACTED

REDACTED, REDACTED

(h) REDACTED (c) REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Camelia Vera
Date: 09-02-2017 12:49 PM
Subject: Election voting thoughts
mail27

Hi,

I have been amazed to find that the voting checks for whom is voting are very loose. I live in the Los Angeles County in California.

I feel we should show a government identification to prove our identity when we vote. I am a Hispanic 50+ female and would not feel slighted if everyone is asked for identification. We used to do this before when I was a young voter. Now, whomever gets there to vote in my name can do so.

We should do this because we are in an age of identity theft. We use chips to control theft from our accounts yet have nothing to prevent others from voting in our names. Our voting rights are one of the greatest privileges we are afforded. Please enact laws to safeguard our rights.

Additionally, why are our records not computerized? Maybe they are, but it seems dead people should immediately be taken off the registrars. This should be tightened. We also want to ensure that only citizens of our country are voting. So a government id from states that issue drivers licenses to non citizens is not enough. Those government ids should be issued in such a way to easily identify that they are only for driving and not for voting or other citizen proofs.

Finally, we do need to crack down on people who want to circumvent the controls by speaking in another language to steer voters. This has been reported in my community. We need severe penalties for those that do this. We also need a way for the federal government to ensure that the states prosecute those who commit those activities and not look the other way when it benefits their party.

Thank you for your time.

Camelia

REDACTED

REDACTED REDACTED

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Robin Hvidston
Date: 09-02-2017 11:24 AM
Subject: ELECTION FRAUD IN CALIFORNIA
mail28

Please focus the federal government on the election fraud in California. 11 counties have MORE registered voters than people eligible to vote! Robin Hvidston, REDACTED, REDACTED REDACTED

11 California counties have more registered voters than eligible voters

11 California counties have more registered voters than eligible voters

WASHINGTON – Since the 2016 presidential election, many different factors have been blamed for each side's elect...

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Chris Rizzuti
Date: 09-02-2017 10:34 AM
Subject: election integrity
mail28

Keep it simple -

There are only two requirements for good elections:

1. accurate voter rolls/records
2. show identification to vote.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Suellen Shea
Date: 09-02-2017 08:21 AM
Subject: My Comments for President's Commission on Election Integrity
mail28

I am very concerned about the loss of integrity in the voting process & elections in our country, and ESPECIALLY HERE IN CALIFORNIA.

Every time a vote is compromised it cancels the vote of a legal concerned citizen voter.

As a longtime volunteer with the Election Integrity Project in San Diego County I have witnessed disturbing practices and violations.

1. We need VOTER ID in California. That would help immensely.
2. Redistricting has destroyed election integrity nationwide. It is set up to keep incumbents and certain parties in power. Deals are made on both sides. Disgusting.
3. Need to restore more physical polling places --- not remove so many local ones & encouraging vote by mail, which is fraught with fraud opportunities.
4. Eliminate "Motor Voter" registration. REDACTED this has added thousands (maybe millions) who are NOT eligible to vote, but register at DMV anyway. Too lax & no accountability or punishment for perjury.
5. More attention to CLEANING UP THE ROLLS. Too many dead voters & those who vote more than once at different locations (old, new addresses, etc.)
6. Monitoring of college students who vote twice --- with home address & on campus.

Suellen Sheain REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Marilyn Galli
Date: 09-02-2017 05:21 AM
Subject: Voter Integrity
mail28

My concern is California has chosen to not share their voter rolls with the voter fraud commission under the Trump administration. This makes me wonder if they have something to hide and will they destroy their voter rolls from the 2016 election.

Also it makes me wonder why they want 16 & 17 year olds to 'pre-register' before their 18th birthday in California. What are their plans for early registration?

Marilyn Galli

Sent from my iPhone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Wayne Harropson
Date: 09-02-2017 04:47 AM
Subject: Here's my input
mail28

I think we are about to discover that we live a different country than MSM and progressives have been telling us we live in..

Democrats may never win a presidential race again once the roles are cleaned up and the fraud is exposed.

Wayne Harropson

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: REDACTED

Date: 09-02-2017 02:12 AM

Subject: Election integrity

mail29

First off, thank you for the opportunity to voice my opinion. As a citizen of California, I am really concerned over the vast election fraud in this state enforced by our very liberal leaders. Unfortunately I live in the San Fernando Valley and my Congressman is Brad Sherman, a far leftist whose agenda is to impeach our beloved President Trump. Allowing illegals to obtain California Driver's licenses is a crime in itself perpetrated by the politicians in this state. Our Governor Gerry Brown represents the far left socialist party we refer to as Democrats. However, he is the problem, because he wants the illegals voting because they will vote democratic insuring that the democrats prevail in Calif. Once these illegals have driver's license, they can walk into any voting precinct and vote. It is so wrong. And what the dead people voting. I am outraged that such activities take place. Voting needs to be closely monitored and the dead people need to be updated.

Thank you!

Daniel Rose

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: REDACTED
Date: 09-02-2017 02:02 AM
Subject: Every vote legally cast and legally counted
mail29

As a poll observer I found many inconsistencies in voting procedures in different precincts throughout San Diego County in CA.

1. The poll worker is to ask the voter to tell him his full name and address. That forces the voter to actually tell an out and out lie out loud. Most people don't really want to do that. The poll workers do not ask the voter to do that. Instead, the voter walks in and says he is John Smith. The poll worker looks for him on his list. Then the poll worker does one of two things. He says "Ok, I found you," and gives him a ballot. Or the poll worker might say, "On blank street?" And the voter will say yes or nod yes. He gets a ballot.
2. California does not require a pictured ID which is so wrong. One voter presented his driver's license as verification of his ID. Instead of graciously looking at it and thanking the voter for presenting ID, the poll worker just dismissed it and said, "We don't need that."
3. Poll workers often allow a voter to vote regular way when they should be given a provisional ballot. You don't want to correct them in front of the voter, but sometimes you just have to. If the voter says he didn't receive his vote by mail ballot, he can only vote provisionally, but lots of poll workers give them a regular ballot. If the mail ballot has been voted already, and the voter is given a regular ballot, he is actually voting twice. This voter may or may not have voted the mail ballot himself. REDACTED, anyone can go online without proof of ID and can change the mailing address of a voter. That way a stranger gets the voter's ballot and votes by mail. Then the voter goes to the polls and votes regular way there. His vote is thereby actually counted twice. The US Post Office found 150 vote by mail ballots with different names on them all at the same address.
4. Now in California illegal immigrants are hired as poll workers. They are not citizens. They have not pledged allegiance to the California or the federal constitutions. There is a language barrier in a situation where even American poll workers have trouble following the laws correctly. We have had very high unemployment rates in recent years, and Americans needed those jobs. It is well documented that California has adequate numbers of trained poll workers available to work and that there is no need for illegal immigrants to be hired. So why are they???
5. REDACTED, volunteers with EIP cross referenced voter lists with social security records to determine how many deceased voters were still on active voting rolls. We could not remove them from the voting rolls as we did not have authority to do that. We could only report it. We also noted how many registered voters were living at the same address. If that number seemed excessive, some one went to that address to see if was possible for that many registered voters to be living at that address. Maybe the address was actually a commercial building or an empty lot. Maybe it was a very tiny house with 10 registered voters living there. Was that probable and/or possible?

I will document other actual observations in a separate email.

Sent from Mail for Windows 10

---

This email has been checked for viruses by AVG antivirus software.

>REDACTED<

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Leslie Dutton (ldutton)
Date: 09-02-2017 01:52 AM
Subject: Fwd: Recent Video coverage on California Election Integrity
mail29

Here is but one short video covering how elections are rigged in CA. If you want more videos with documentation we can provide.

>REDACTED<2016/11/how-are-elections-rigged/

Leslie Dutton

Executive Producer

Full Disclosure Network

REDACTED

Marina del REDACTED REDACTED

REDACTED <tel:(310)%REDACTED>

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff

From: REDACTED

Date: 09-02-2017 12:41 AM

Subject: Do the dead get to vote?

mail29

To:>www.electionintegritystaff< Details

My wife and I moved from Arizona to California to care for her aging, ailing parents. Her father died within two months of colon cancer. Her mother remained with us for an additional three years before dying of Lewie Body Disease complications.

In the mean time we had taken my aunt into our home as she was in her nineties, legally blind, and physically challenged. Following her death (which was properly reported to relevant authorities) we received the absentee ballot she had signed up for at the next election. We took the ballot to the voting place near our home and turned it in, reporting that she was deceased.

At the next election she received another absentee ballot, which we again turned in at the nearby voting location and reported her death. At the next election, now more than four years after her death, she received another absentee ballot.

Does no one make note of deceased voters? How many times will my deceased aunt receive an absentee ballot before someone takes note of her death? It is not very reassuring that election records are not updated in a timely manner. We can't help but wonder how many people are able to vote multiple times because they continue to receive absentee ballots for deceased loved ones.

David Balsley

REDACTED

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Tami Bollay
Date: 09-02-2017 12:37 AM
Subject: California elections
mail29

We need to ask people for identification.

There are way too many provisional ballots.

Clean up voter rolls.

Thank you.

Sent from my iPad

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Bonnie O'Neil
Date: 09-02-2017 12:11 AM
Subject: Election Integrity
mail29

To whom it Concerns:

I believe the election process in California has been seriously compromised.

Ca. State officials allowed illegal immigrants the privilege of having a Ca Driver License. While at the DMV, these non-citizens were given Ca. Voter Registration Forms, which they could fill out and submit to the State. The Ca. State Dept. did not supply the Voter Registrars information as to the identify of these non-citizens. As a result, there is no way for the Registrar or office personal to have parsed out any illegal voter ballots. Therefore there is the possibility that over a million "Illegals" may have voted without any viable way of detection.

It is imperative that the Ca. State Dept. send the Ca. Registrars the names and addresses of all "illegal immigrants" who receive and/or have already received Driver Licenses in California.

Bonnie O'Neil

REDACTEDar

Newport Beach, Ca.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: MICHAEL RIVERA
Date: 09-02-2017 12:09 AM
Subject: Public Comment
mail29

My wife and I are 64 year residents of California whose family roots go back many many generations it's become obvious to me that something is very wrong with the voting system in California and apparently in other areas of the United States.

According to recent reports there are 11 counties in California with over 100% of eligible voters on the voter roles. and many other Counties in the State with unusually high voter role participation. This is absolutely astounding. How could this be! As an American of Hispanic descent I am very concerned that the political balance in California has been turned upside down by these facts! Having the possibility of Non Citizens, Illegal Aliens, the dead and people who should not be voting in our elections makes this one issue very disturbing and potentially very dangerous to our republic!

My wife and my hope is that the President's Commission led by the Vice President will get to the bottom of what has happened in California. There is a tremendous imbalance politically in California which is creating serious problems for the people in this State. This could be the result of the concerns I have raised earlier in my comments.

I believe this is a dangerous and critical issue not just for the State of California but for the United States in Total. Please complete your work by getting to the issue of California voter roles so that we as a State can lead the rest of the Country back to fair and legal elections.

Sincerely,

Michael Steven Rivera
Paso Robles Ca.

Phone number

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: REDACTED
Date: 09-01-2017 11:41 PM
Subject: Each vote lawfully cast and counted.
mail29

As a voter, I have been given inaccurate information by a poll worker. That poll worker was the team leader or supervisor of the poll workers in that precinct on that day. He told me that I could only vote provisionally. Fortunately, I had carried the law with me when I went to the polls so that I could prove to him that he was wrong and that I could legally vote and have my vote counted that day.

I attempted to use the new computerized machine to vote that day, but the machine wouldn't work.

The supervisor told me that the machine had been plugged in all day, but it wouldn't adequately charge. He said that he had reported it to the Hotline in the morning, but the machine had not been replaced for voter use that day. I voted late in the day. This was in California.

I had to use the paper ballot to vote.

Sue Flannery REDACTED.

Sent from Mail for Windows 10

---

This email has been checked for viruses by AVG antivirus software.

>REDACTED<

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-01-2017 11:40 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 1, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

John Rohrer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Jackie and John Peacock
Date: 09-01-2017 10:31 PM
Subject: Fw: My experience with Election Integrity and Voting
mail29

Sent from Yahoo Mail on Android

On Fri, Sep 1, 2017 at 7:27 PM, Jackie and John Peacock

<REDACTED> wrote:

For the last five years I have volunteered at polling places in REDACTED. A large percentage of people use vote by mail ballots. In fact our Democratic Governor and the Democratic supermajority Senate and House are attempting to go to all mail ballots. The problem is the majority of the people who came to the polling places to vote did so because their absentee ballots never arrived at their home addresses. They then had to vote a provisional ballot which gets counted only if the original ballot isn't used. I don't have access to that info but it certainly is a path for voter fraud. We have brought this to the Democratic Secretary of State who insists there is no voter fraud.

I also register voters. When I first registered to vote in the 70's I had to show a birth certificate to prove citizenship. Not any more; no one has to show any ID. We keep being told that voter fraud doesn't exist but it's hard to prove after the fact. Voting is a privilege and right of citizenship. Why wouldn't you want to protect that by having voters prove citizenship and identity with a valid ID.

My sister lives in the state of Washington which is all mail ballots. Boxes of ballots keep showing up in an election until the Democrat wins. The lack of integrity of their voting system has resulted in citizens feeling their vote doesn't matter. It's no wonder that voter participation is down.

Lastly, I register voters at new citizen ceremonies in REDACTED. 99 percent of these new citizens don't speak English and have trouble completing the voter registration form. The USCIS website states one of the criteria for citizenship is that you must speak English. How can you learn about the Constitution and Bill of Rights or participate in the economic system if you can't navigate the language, let alone make good decisions on people to represent you. This lack of knowledge can be used against voters by nefarious individuals in perpetuating voter fraud.

Thank you for allowing me to provide this information. I hope that we can bring integrity back to our voting system.

Jackie Peacock

Sent from Yahoo Mail on Android

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: TM Boulart
Date: 09-01-2017 07:29 PM
Subject: Voter Fraud / Election Fraud
mail29

Our system has been compromised. The system weakened by illegals, DACA, felons and others committing fraud against the American people.

--

Sent from my Android phone with REDACTED Mail. Please excuse my brevity.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 09-01-2017 06:10 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Sep 1, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Neville Bruce

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Sunny Lyons
Date: 09-01-2017 11:28 AM
Subject: Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

As a citizen of the United States I am asking that you disband the commission. Events in Charlottesville coupled with only 4 documented cases of voter fraud in the last election harken back to a time of shame in our history when voter suppression prevailed and kept certain Americans without a voice in our government.

The funds would be better used to finance new auditable voting machines, more polling places, and making Election Day a national holiday.

Thank you.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Wmkerns
Date: 08-31-2017 11:43 PM
Subject: Easy to use Voter Fraud Status Map ?
mail29

Easy to use Voter Fraud Status Map ?

Is there a web site which shows the Voter Fraud info on each state , and updates weekly ?

Is there a Voter Fraud Map of States , where I Click on a State and see the latest stories and facts ?
REDACTED and others !

Sent from my iPhone

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: barbara sampath
Date: 08-31-2017 09:45 PM
Subject: New Hampshire Voting Laws Are Tough Enough
mail29

I had to jump through hoops to get my mother registered to vote in New Hampshire last year.

My mother who is 97 lives with me. She moved into New Hampshire from New York to live in our house.

She does not drive and she pays no utility bills.

The process to get her registered was time consuming and complicated. I had to get a notarized letter stating she lives with me in NH. She had to produce a picture ID. Fortunately she had a passport, but how many people have that? She had to produce other documents like her birth certificate and social security card and a New Hampshire bank statement.

The new laws proposed are a sham for voter suppression. REDACTED laws are strong. It is very hard to vote in New Hampshire already.

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Michelle Ramauro
Date: 08-31-2017 07:38 PM
Subject: Elections
mail29

Commission:

NH residents do not accept and will not tolerate anything or anyone that intends to or plans to or wants to interfere in our elections process. We have confidence in the integrity of our voting process and we take voting very seriously. Do not tamper with our system or try to disguise interference with voting and suppression of voting rights as a fact finding mission to make it more difficult for people to vote. Make it easier for NH residents to register and vote. We are smart and intelligent citizens. We follow the rules and we expect you to respect, protect and uphold our access and right to vote.

Thank you,

Dr. Michelle Ramauro

REDACTED

--

May you be at peace.

May your heart remain open.

May you awaken to the light of your own true nature.

May you be healed.

May you be a source of healing to all beings.

~ The Metta Of The Buddha

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-31-2017 07:07 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 31, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Janet Beline

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Carol Clark
Date: 08-31-2017 07:00 PM
Subject: Voting Privacy
mail29

I am writing because I am so distraught over the concept that my voting information is used for ANY purpose other than what I intend it to be and that is to vote. I don't want my information being sold or given to anyone for any reason. Until I was recently "enlightened" by Trump's request, I had no idea that my voting information was public.

Furthermore I want to address the fact that I have total faith that the voting in my state was honest, that the system administered in my town of Bow is secure, and that there is no evidence that would warrant an investigation costing taxpayer money.

I strongly oppose our voting lists to be submitted to any organization. I feel we have integrity in this wonderful state of NH and do not like the fact that our reputation has been tarnished through false accusations.

Sincerely,

Carolyn M. Clark

Sent from my iPad

Sent from my iPad

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Lauren Rimnac
Date: 08-31-2017 01:45 PM
Subject: Violation
mail29

This committee is a violation of voters' privacy and I respectfully ask that you disband this committee.

--

Lauren Rimnac

REDACTED

REDACTED <mailto:REDACTED>

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-31-2017 01:36 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 31, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Carly Stocks

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-30-2017 09:05 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 30, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Kellie Gasser

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-30-2017 04:35 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 30, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

William Barnes

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-30-2017 01:34 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 30, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm horrified that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes.

Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Josefina Sanfeliu

REDACTED4801

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-30-2017 12:34 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 30, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Ruby Watson

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-29-2017 10:11 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail29

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 29, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

John Rohrer

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Emily Innis
Date: 08-29-2017 06:03 PM
Subject: NO "election integrity commission"
mail29

This committee is a violation of voters' privacy and I respectfully ask that you disband this committee.

Emily Innis

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: jen hinger
Date: 08-29-2017 12:18 PM
Subject: Disband
mail30

This committee is a violation of voters' privacy and I respectfully ask that you disband this committee.

Jen Hinger

t: REDACTED ext 118 | e: REDACTED

Be sure to check out our website @ >REDACTED<

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Marjory Keenan
Date: 08-28-2017 05:36 PM
Subject: Re-visioning the Commission
mail30

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity Members,

The events in Charlottesville, coupled with the fact there were only 4 documented cases of voter fraud in the last election, harken back to a time of shame in our history when voter suppression prevailed and kept certain Americans without a voice in our government.

As members, I urge you to disband the commission and use the funds to finance new auditable voting machines, establish more polling places, and make Election Day a national holiday. I believe all three actions will truly support integrity in our elections.

Sincerely,

Marjory Keenan

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Donna Cay Tharpe
Date: 08-28-2017 12:43 PM
Subject: Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail30

Dear Secretary Detzner,

I have read the statements and releases by the commission for May, June, July, and August 2017; the list of commission members; the summary of the commission's first meeting on July 19; the commission documents; and the commission mission; and the meeting notice for the upcoming meeting on September 12, 2017, meeting in New Hampshire.

I have also contacted the ACLU, of which I have been a member for many years.

I am deeply concerned that the Commission is moving our focus away from seriously problematic areas in our Federal Government and that the appointment of Kris Kobach, SofS in Kansas, is the poorest of choices to head up the Commission. To wit, why, under Kobach's leadership, did the State of Kansas dispose of 14,000 ballots in the 2016 election?

POTUS's efforts to create a problem in search of a solution would be much better served by supporting efforts to alleviate repression of voting rights and voter registration by U.S. citizens.

In an effort to preclude similar mishaps in Florida, I am attempting to submit a public proposal to the Florida Constitution Revision Commission to insert a law in our State constitution to provide for a statewide audit of voter ballots following an election and the publicly reported outcome. Apparently, only the States of Colorado and New Mexico currently have such audit laws.

I am keen to know your reactions to my thoughts, and I look forward to receiving your response to this email.

Respectfully,

Donna C Tharpe

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Stephanie Simko
Date: 08-28-2017 12:14 PM
Subject: Fwd: Voter Fraud Probe
mail30

Would you be so kind to let me know if my email was received and if there is someone I could speak to that is working on this? Thank you.

Begin forwarded message:

From: Stephanie Simko <REDACTED <mailto:REDACTED>>

Subject: Voter Fraud Probe

Date: August 21, 2017 at 6:11:22 PM EDT

To: REDACTED <mailto:REDACTED>

RE: Voter Fraud Probe

To Whom it May Concern:

As a long time voter and taxpayer, I am not very confident in what the purpose of this probe is about and what the ultimate goals or results that are expected. Most Americans are more concerned with the Dark Money, Super Pac, and Citizen's United Ruling allowing money from anywhere and everywhere going into campaigns etc. It would be really helpful to help the American People have their vote count without competing with the Billionaires around the World buying our Candidates and elections.

So, I have read all the updates on REDACTED

My request is if you would please respond to my questions below. I was unable to find any answers in the updates. Your response would be greatly appreciated.

My questions:

Will the Public be informed and provided a public forum to view the results of Probe and what is the timeline or when we will be notified of said results?

How much will this Probe cost taxpayers?

How long will taxpayers be paying for this probe?

What will be done with the data when completed?

How secure is our personal data?

Personally, I have volunteered with our SOE and trust him completely. As do the majority of Americans. Mostly because they all live our neighborhoods and we elect them.

My concerns are our personal data floating around and given to who knows who and that the % of voter fraud is only around 1%.

I do find this probe disturbing and since Republicans have been passing voter suppression laws across this Country since 2013 when the 14th Amendment was gutted by SCOTUS. I sincerely believe it will be resolved by the review of REDACTED is taking to SCOTUS this Fall.

Again this probe seems to be an unnecessary meddling with voter information and the possibility of damage to people the President doesn't care for.

In further research, the cases that Mr. Kobach has been on there has been extreme amounts of taxpayer money given to him for losing cases in States across this Country. Which begs the question why him, why this Probe?

Thank you for your attention to this and I will look for your reply.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Simko

Stephanie Simko-Weaver

REDACTED <mailto:REDACTED>

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Dorothy Kress
Date: 08-28-2017 09:35 AM
Subject: Disband the Commission on Election Integrity
mail30

The events in Charlottesville, coupled with the fact there were only 4 documented cases of voter fraud in the last election, harken back to a time of shame in our history when voter suppression prevailed and kept certain Americans without a voice in our government.

The threat to our elections is not from “illegal voters.”

Appropriate action is to disband the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity and use these funds to finance new auditable voting machines, provide more polling places, register all eligible voters, and make Election Day a national holiday.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Kress

REDACTED REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-28-2017 02:06 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail30

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 28, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tamara Voyles

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-28-2017 01:36 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail30

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 28, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Tamara Voyles

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Meredith Baker
Date: 08-27-2017 09:06 PM
Subject: elections
mail30

To whom it may concern:

As a previous volunteer election official, I would like to advise the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity to

1. disband the commission
2. use the funds to finance new auditable voting machines and more polling places
3. make Election Day a national holiday
4. support efforts in all states to Automatic Voter Registration (AVR)
5. support all efforts to uncover and disclose outside threats to our national sovereignty via election interference from outside countries.

Absent supporting these initiatives, you will find that those of us who treasure our right to vote and do all we can to support the voting rights of our fellow citizens will not take your efforts seriously or consider your efforts to be in good faith.

Meredith Baker

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Cynthia Sweeney
Date: 08-27-2017 04:11 PM
Subject: REDACTED
mail30

August 27, 2017

To Whom It May Concern,

Having spent in excess of twenty-five years as the elected clerk of Nashua, Ward 6, I am qualified to comment on the integrity of the election process.

I can unequivocally state that at no time have busloads of people been transported to illegally vote in an election.

I, too, have been skeptical, and have kept an extra eye on the proceedings, and every time they have proven to be legitimate.

I am available for any questions you may have.

Cynthia Page Sweeney

REDACTED

REDACTED REDACTED

REDACTED

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Koren Gaines
Date: 08-26-2017 08:26 AM
Subject: Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail30

Good morning,

There are so many parts of our voting system that I am very concerned about from the integrity of voting machines to voter suppression to the ability to vote.

After reading the Brennan Center report that there were only 4 documented cases of voter fraud in the last election, I hope that you will disband your commission and recommend that we do more to protect voters:

- * finance new auditable voting machines
- * increase the number of polling places
- * make Election Day a nation holiday (consider moving it to a weekend)
- * end voter suppression by ending the practices of voter IDs and purging voter rolls

To have a representative government, we need all people represented. To do that we need to focus on real threats - not imagined ones. >REDACTED<

Sincerely,

KD Hoover

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-26-2017 01:02 AM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
mail30

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 26, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it.

I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Betty Brendel

REDACTED

To: FN-OVP-Election Integrity Staff
From: Common Cause
Date: 08-25-2017 10:31 PM
Subject: Written Comment to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity mail31

To contact this constituent by email, please reply to this message.

Aug 25, 2017

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity,

I'm deeply concerned that the Pence-Kobach commission's recent request for private information about every voter in the country could be the first of many attempts to push nationwide voting restrictions.

I'm glad that state election officials have put their duty to voters above this partisan attack on voters, and I want you to know that the American people will not be intimidated out of exercising our freedom to vote.

The best way to uphold the integrity of our elections is by making sure every eligible voter can vote and have their vote counted as cast -- not using false claims about illegal voting to suppress votes. Modernizing our elections to allow things like automatic voter registration, Election Day voter registration, and early voting are important steps to lowering the barriers to participation for all

Americans.

The freedom to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy, and I know that We The People will do whatever it takes, together, to protect it. I will not let this Commission intimidate me or any other eligible American from exercising the freedom to vote.

Sincerely,

Lisa Hey

REDACTED

United States Senate

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

Statement by Senator Jeanne Shaheen
Before the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
Manchester, NH
September 12, 2017

Vice Chair Kobach and members of the commission: With the Senate in session, I am unable to attend today's hearing, but I appreciate this opportunity to submit testimony for the record.

On February 9, President Trump asserted that he would have been victorious in the Granite State if not for thousands of people who were bussed into New Hampshire to vote illegally on Election Day. Two weeks earlier, the president said that he lost the popular vote because three to five million people voted illegally. He offered no evidence to support either of these very serious allegations; nor has anyone else. Nonetheless, the president used these claims to justify creating this commission, whose obvious purpose is to lay the groundwork for broad-scale voter suppression laws. Some legislators in Concord have used the same unsubstantiated claims to justify passing new laws making it more difficult to vote in New Hampshire.

Last Thursday, on the far-right website Breitbart, the vice chair of this commission used deceptive and irrelevant data to rehash the same false claims that have been debunked time and again by independent analyses and by members of both major parties here in the Granite State. Using slippery words like "it has been reported" and "anecdotally," the vice chair insinuates that thousands of same-day registrants used out-of-state driver's licenses to prove identity and vote illegally. I say "insinuates" because he offers no actual evidence – not a single confirmed case of fraudulent voting. He made no effort to contact voters who had cast ballots but held out-of-state driver's licenses.

The fact is that New Hampshire law clearly states that citizens who live in New Hampshire can vote without a New Hampshire ID. This includes long-time New Hampshire residents who don't drive and don't have a driver's license; it includes thousands of students from other states who live in New Hampshire while attending school; and it includes military personnel from other states who live in New Hampshire while on active duty.

Granite Staters are not gullible or naive, and we do not appreciate those who impugn the integrity of our state's voting systems based on unsubstantiated accusations. Indeed, the vice chair's accusations in Breitbart call into question the legitimacy of our elections in New Hampshire for every federal, state, and local office. This is reckless and irresponsible.

The truth is that, here in New Hampshire and across the nation, voter fraud is extremely rare. I am deeply concerned that falsehoods about illegal voting are being spread as a pretext for restricting access to the ballot box. This risks disenfranchising eligible voters and undermining faith in our democracy.

(continued on next page)

United States Senate

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

There is zero evidence of significant voter fraud in the Granite State during the 2016 election. Senior Deputy Secretary of State David M. Scanlan, head of the Election Division, said: "There are some isolated instances of individual voters voting improperly. . . But we haven't had any complaints about widespread voter fraud taking place." Meanwhile, the nonpartisan Brennan Center for Justice has determined that voter fraud happens nationwide as little as 0.00004 percent of the time. A separate, multiyear study by Justice Department senior official Justin Levitt found only 31 credible allegations of voter fraud out of one billion votes cast between 2000 and 2014.

Granite Staters take pride in our state's brand of open and direct democracy, which encourages maximum participation, including by college students and active-duty members of the military who live in our state. It is not the New Hampshire way to make voting unnecessarily difficult or to target specific groups of voters with deliberately onerous ID laws.

I am very concerned that reckless accusations of widespread voter fraud and illegitimate elections in New Hampshire could jeopardize our state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary. Every four years, activists from other states attempt to take away our first-in-the-nation primary, and they will now quote the vice chair of this commission. This is deeply unfortunate and a disservice to the people of New Hampshire.

We must learn from ill-conceived voter ID laws in other states. Striking down the laws passed by the Republican majority in North Carolina's legislature, a unanimous federal court ruled that they "target African Americans with almost surgical precision" and "impose cures for problems that did not exist." Invalidating similar laws in Wisconsin, U.S. District Judge James Peterson wrote: "The Wisconsin experience demonstrates that a preoccupation with mostly phantom election fraud leads to real incidents of disenfranchisement, which undermine rather than enhance confidence in elections, particularly in minority communities."

When candidate Donald Trump claimed that the election would be "rigged," and when President Trump claimed that the electoral process has been massively corrupted by millions of illegal votes, these false assertions have real consequences. They undermine confidence in our elections and democracy, and create a dishonest rationale for voter-suppression laws targeting the poor, the young and minorities.

At the end of the Constitutional Convention in 1787, a citizen asked Benjamin Franklin: "Well, doctor, what have we got – a republic or a monarchy." He famously answered: "A republic, if you can keep it." Fortunately, the great majority of Americans reject falsehoods that discredit our democracy and disenfranchise voters. We still have a robustly democratic republic. And we intend to keep it.